LITERARY ATTEMPT

Northwest Knights

These were weighed and not found wanting. Membership on CLASSICS EXECUTIVE BOARD is a distinct honor that comes as a reward for ability to help make the production a success. New members are screened carefully. This annual all-student produced talent display is a continuing tradition among our Knights and Ladies. Everyone has a part in Classics if it's no more than buying a ticket and watching the show. Each year some 400 students actively participate in the production.

Dear Allen,
You're a great guy and I've enjoyed knowing you. I'm glad to have had you for a friend. Lots of luck & success in all that you do. Keep smiling & work hard.

"The Play's The Thing"

EXECUTIVE BOARD MEMBERS meet regularly to plan, write, approve and check progress of acts that will make the show.

Management

THE CLASSICS ADVISORY BOARD, composed of faculty members, does not dictate or determine policy. They are a patient, never-failing source of morale. Every show must have its angels.

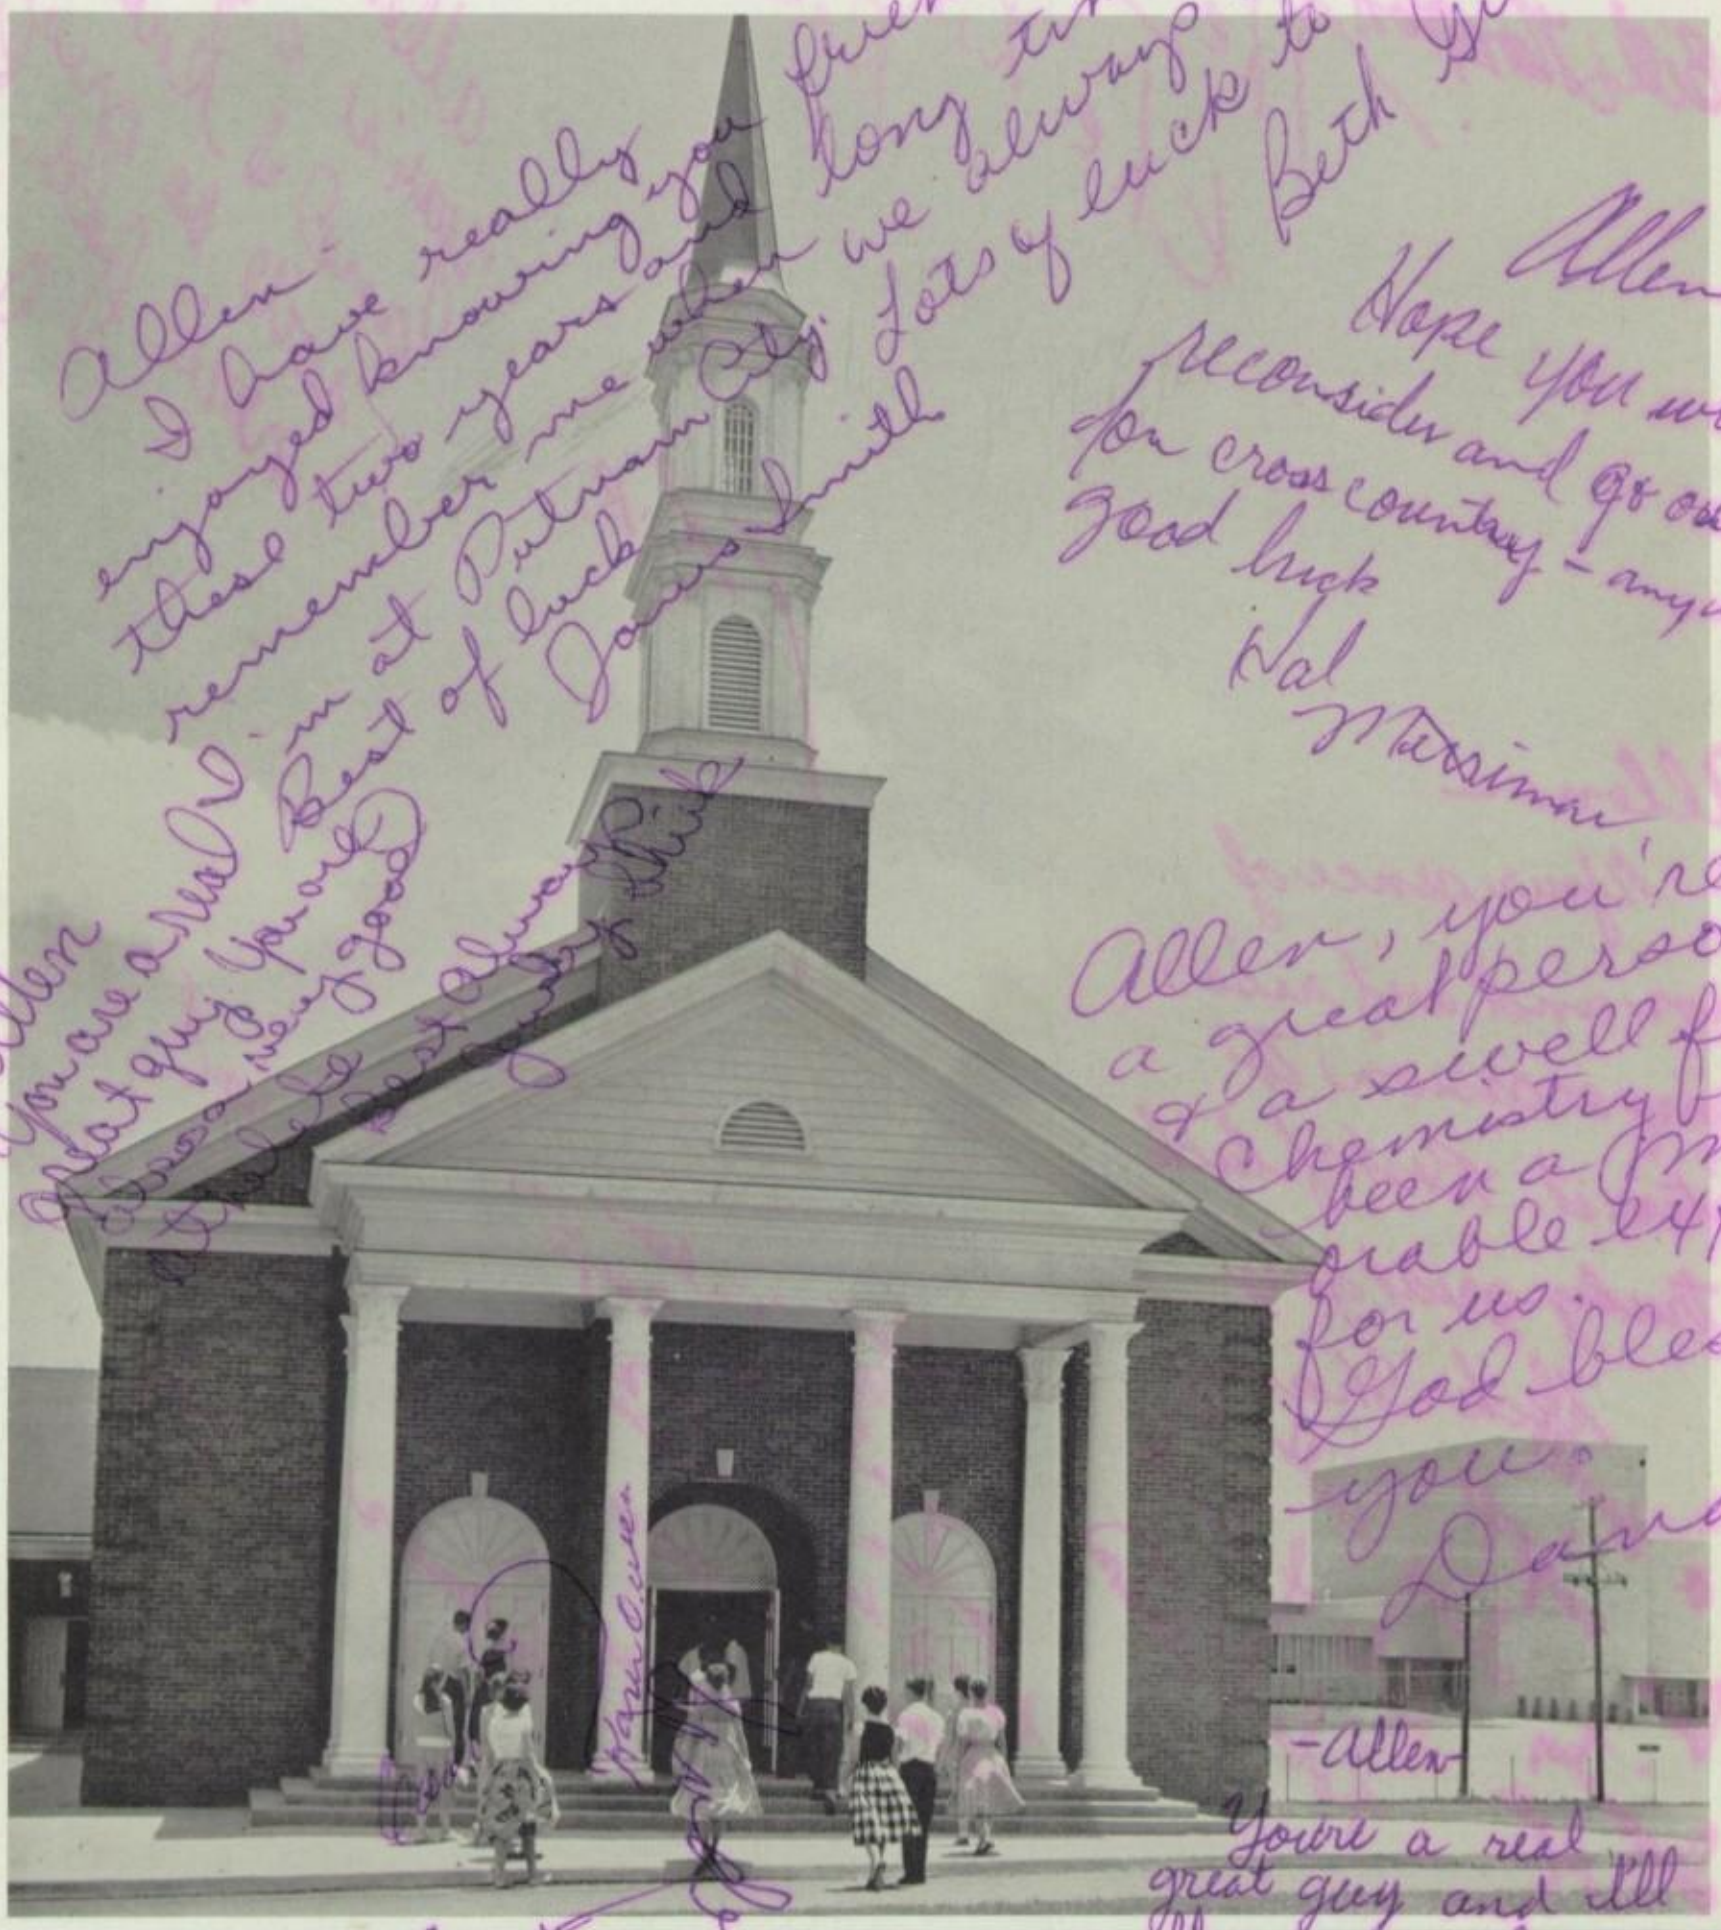
Program

For completeness few school programs compare favorably with ours. Interesting variation is introduced by TV and team classes. Classics often motivate class projects accomplishing teacher-student planning.

Arena

Participation in sports does not always mean a place on the team. Competition in being a loyal Knight can also generate a genuine desire to excel. Youth sets itself high goals.

Properties



Students like doing things together. New friendships based on mutual interests make social events and leisure time more enjoyable. Clubs inspire ideas and ideals. It's fun to work with others.

At last, beyond the reach of upperclassmen. Conflicting emotions arise as we stand between the Past and the Future. But classes before us have made it—surely life beyond these sacred halls is good, too.

Prologue

CLASSICS glorifies youth, talent, teamwork and teenagers.

Your '59 Round Table has selected this outstanding example of school-wide cooperative enterprise as significant of what the spirit of unity and oneness can achieve.

CLASSICS '59, stupendous show, fourth edition of the extravaganza, did not hit the boards in time to be incorporated in this year's book. Deadlines being what they are, that show must be featured in the 1960 book.

As a tribute to those tireless souls who cheerfully carry on this unusual all-student project with outstanding success, the Round Table hopes to inspire greater appreciation of teenage leadership and ability. For many years graduating classes have been told they were the hope of the world. Yet the world pace failed to let them get in step. Much of that has changed. Youthful achievements in all fields have attained power to halt the careless world and climb aboard in a place of eminence.

Classics is more than a student undertaking. It involves the entire community. Patrons gladly contribute time and energy. This unifying influence brings home and school together, stimulates visits between parent and teacher, neighbor and neighbor.

America needs such examples of solidarity.

The show

Miss Kathleen Owen, activities director, smiles approval of Jan Dye's act.

Drummer, David Todd, does a brushed rhythm for Sharon Lee's and Ken Bolt's duet.

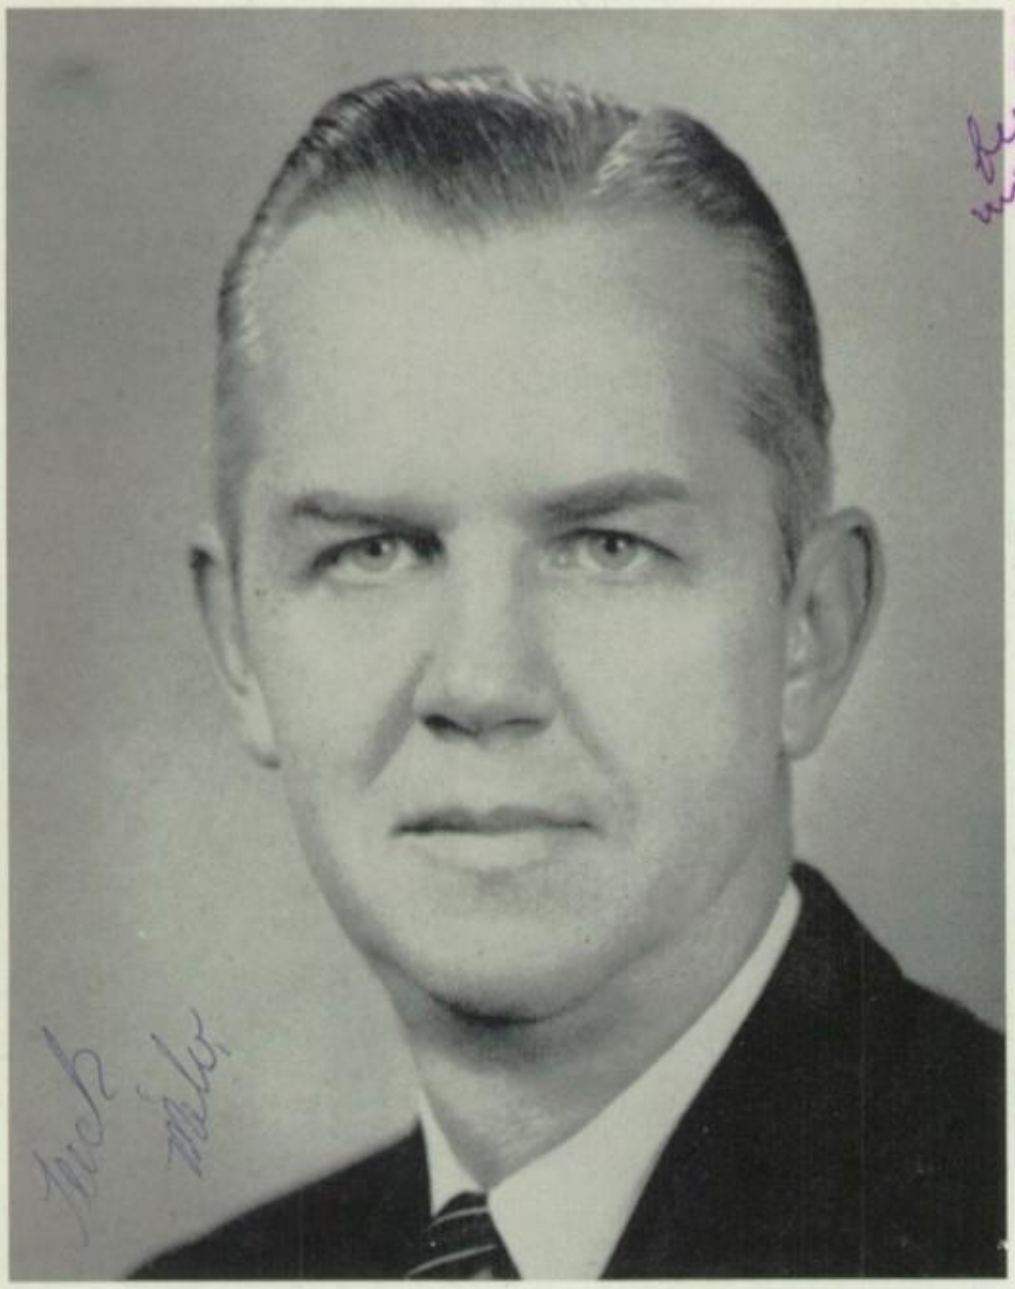
By wide accord the TEEN KINGS were recognized as hard to beat.

Kirk Hagan, as a germ, is smaller than a flea.

The honey tones of Donita Elliott, Janice Baxter and Camille Emerson blend in "Sugar Time."

Miss Shirley Riddle fits Gail Grosclose's tunic.

Karen Knott's way of singing "Sweet Georgia Brown" was the hit of the show.



Dr. Melvin W. Barnes, Superintendent, Oklahoma City Public Schools

Administration

Dr. Barnes' philosophy of education stands for students learning skills that help them solve basic life problems—knowing themselves, understanding others and having ability to adjust to situations. A sense of values and a set of high ideals are personal qualities he encourages.

Recognition of individual talent establishes the school's responsibility for aiding a student in developing every facet of his being. The manner in which students are trained to use these talents will determine the future of the individual and his nation.

Board of Education

Mr. Jim Wright, President, Ward Four

Mr. Phil C. Bennett, Vice President, Member-at-Large

Mr. C. B. McCray, Ward Three

Mrs. L. D. Melton, Ward One

Mr. Otto F. Thompson, Ward Two

Mr. J. Frank Malone, Principal

Mr. Malone's blend of quiet authority, understanding and patience has endeared him to students and faculty. The quality of education given in American high schools is being looked at critically. Northwest Classen graduates consistently rank in upper grade brackets at colleges of their choice. Mr. Malone gives great care to seeing that our high school is making the most of every opportunity.

Mr. Roblyer's willingness to spend time helping students solve their problems makes a trip to his office foundation for a new friendship. His fairness and firmness prove that his concern for the welfare of each student is sincere.

Mr. Jack A. Roblyer
Assistant Principal

Miss Retha W. Hulet, Girls' Counselor

Miss Inez Ellis, Testing

Mr. George W. Brucher, Boys' Counselor

Mr. A. A. Johnson, Freshman Counselor

Evidence that guidance given by Northwest Classen counselors is trustworthy is proved by the ever mounting successes enjoyed by NWC graduates.

Getting acquainted with more than 600 incoming freshmen this year, while keeping in touch with records and relationships of the other classmen, was a task demanding unending vigilance and devotion.

Enrichment of life through happy school experiences and adjustment demands keen observation and understanding on the part of counselors. This aided by capable judgment and jurisdiction makes our counseling program outstanding.

Orientation Day is filled with surprises for freshmen—600 strong. They say, "It breaks the ice."

ROUND TABLE—VOL. IV—1959 was planned, written, and designed by journalism and art students of Northwest Classen High School. Photography is from Hillerman Studios. The Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, Texas, printed the book in an edition limited to sixteen hundred copies.

PHIL HOWELL
Student-body President

GREETINGS

From the very beginning it was evident that the fourth year of Northwest Classen would be one to remember. The day the doors were opened in September and throughout the school year, school loyalty and spirit of the highest type were displayed. Students supported projects of the school, attended sports events, and helped the school reach the top in many drives.

It is inspiring to observe a student body that eagerly enters into all school activities. It is this attitude of the students together with the help of our outstanding faculty, that makes Northwest Classen the finest of schools.

Our high school has come a long way from its beginning. Seniors can look back with pride on their high school years. It is now up to you, the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, to advance the fine school spirit and uphold the high traditions of Northwest Classen.

Best wishes to all of you, always.

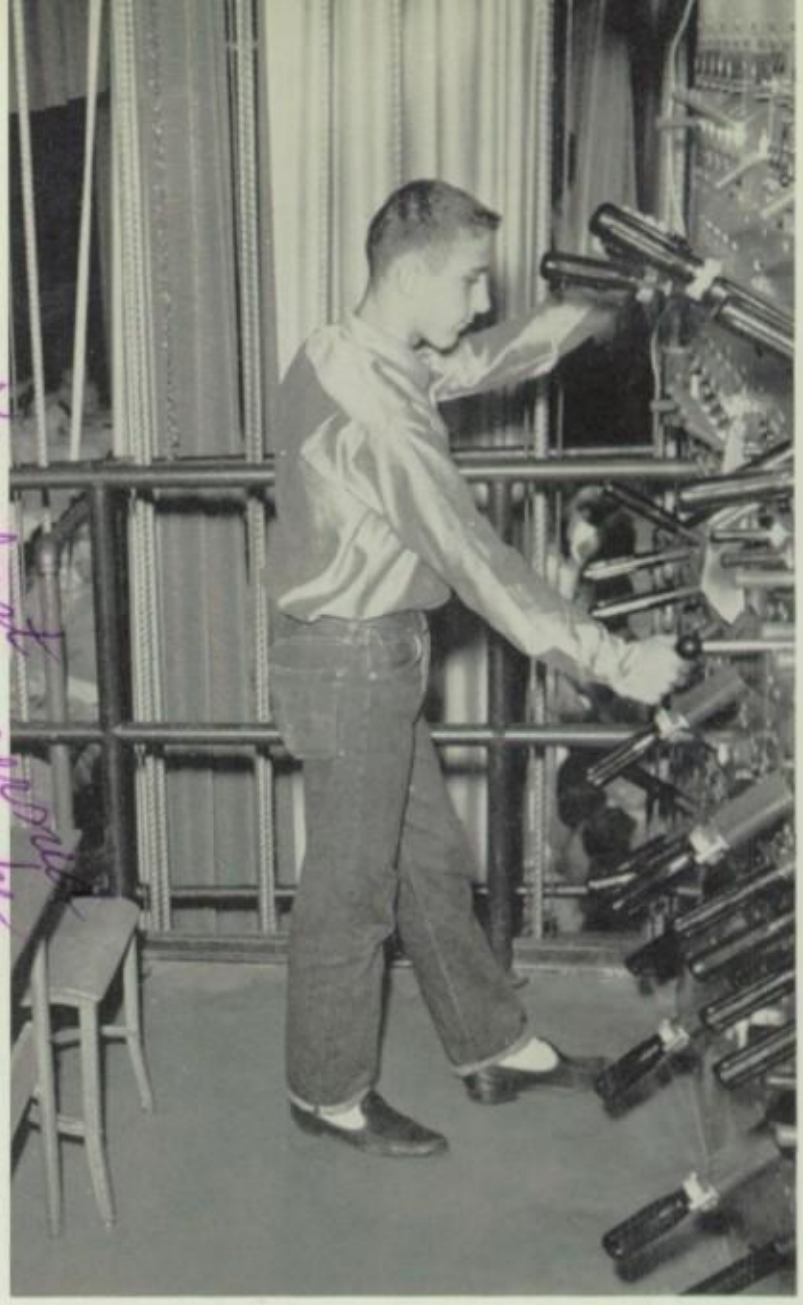
HERE ARE THE FOLK WHO

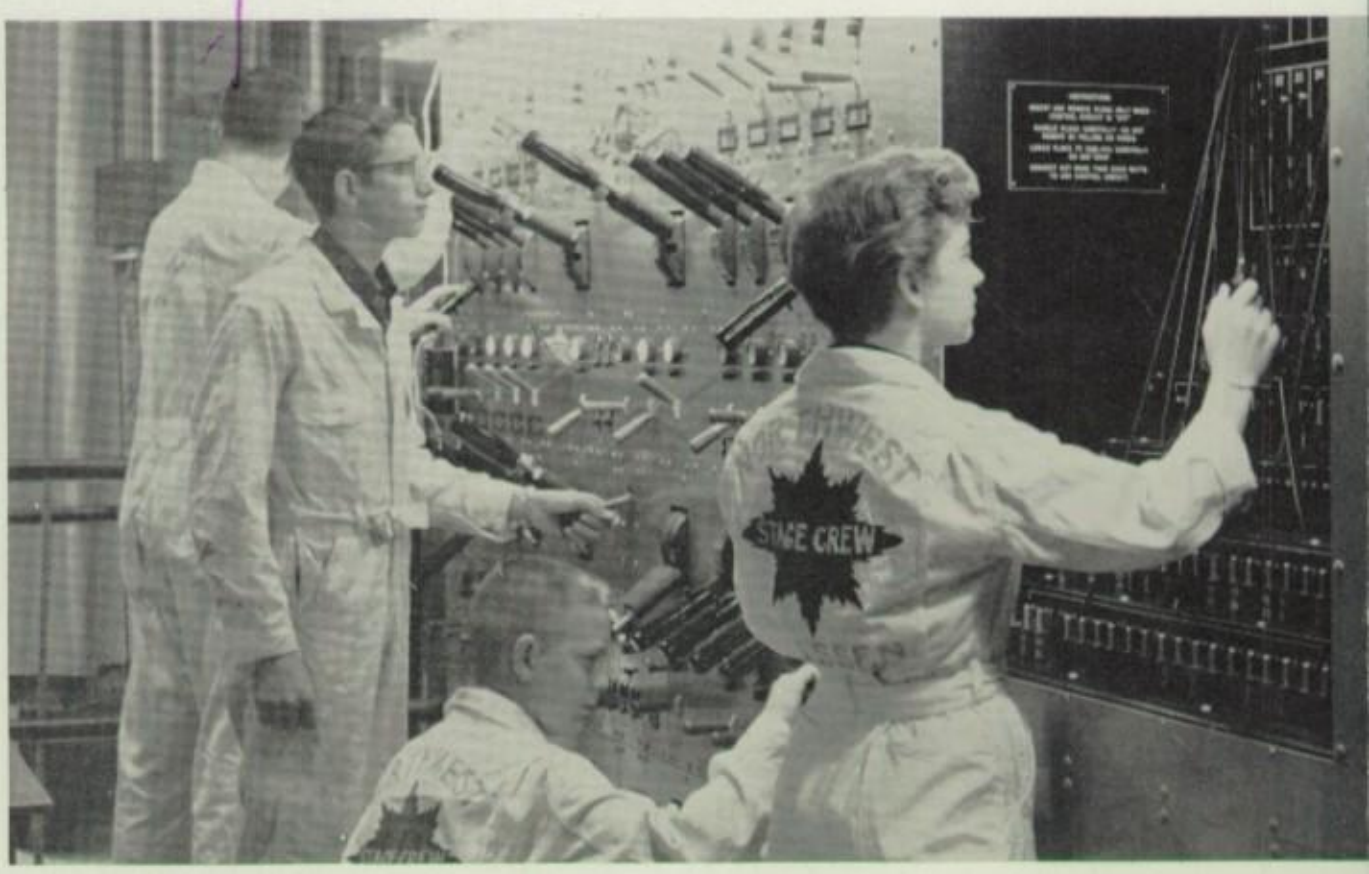
MAKE THE SHOW GO.

Allen, this year's production has been the best, most challenging, most rewarding year I've had at Northwest. Thanks for helping make it so. Best of luck to a great guy. Best wishes always, Dick Kinahan



Loren Inglish manipulates the switchboard with the technic of a master.

Teresa Sullivan gazes into the skyline of the back stage.



Without the skills of these engineers at the controls CLASSICS wouldn't be a superb production.

Mr. Nichols never agrees that a thing is impossible. "The show must go on!"

STAGE CREW KNOW-HOW

INSURES SUCCESS

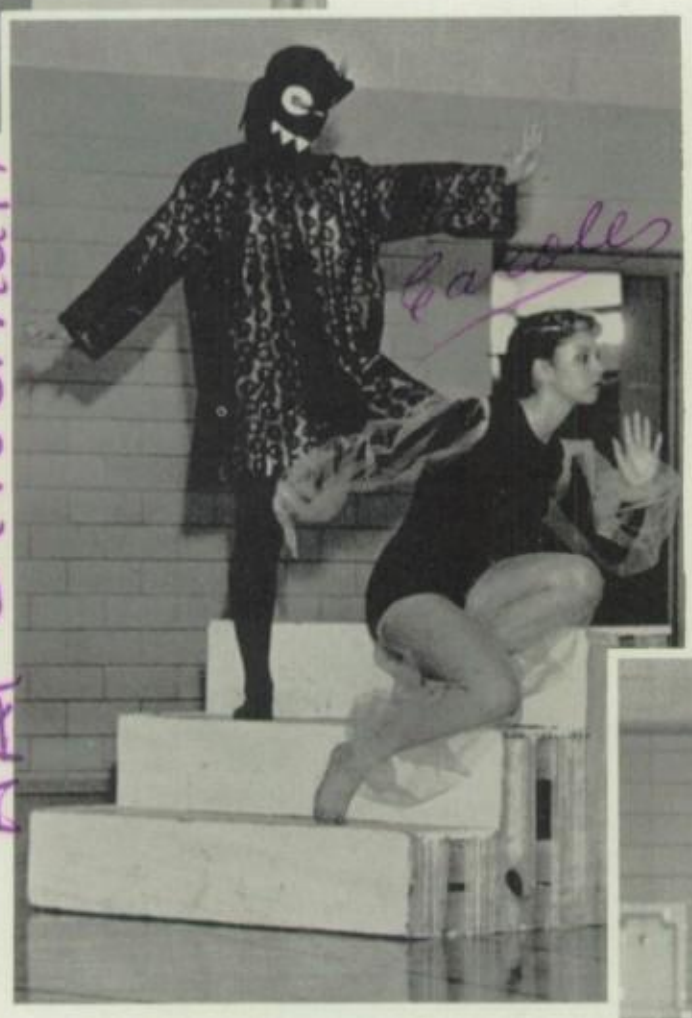
Back stage bustle is continuous, as the Knights who work on the stage crew prepare settings and lights for the stupendous spotlight production of the year, CLASSICS. Working together, they create unique and original effects.

Mr. Nichols instructs the stage crew so that members learn how to operate equipment necessary for the production of CLASSICS. In the shoproom, flats are constructed, painted and arranged on the stage as scenery. The Crew works with microphone arrangements, and lighting techniques in the sound room, and maneuvering spotlights.

Stage crew members spend their spare time adjusting the lights and microphones to insure a good program, and with every presentation they become more skilled.

Making a stage set is no one man project. Of course some contribute only Kibitz,—but each feels he has had a part in the overall completed job.

MODERN DANCE CREATES MOOD



Gerry Baker portrays the "Human Sacrifice" demanded by a heathen god.

Ballet, like a colorful painting, brings to life the emotions and decisions of those it interprets. It is a vital part to the successful reception of CLASSICS.

Choreography offers wide opportunities for dramatic and picturesque effects. Modern dance is a fairly new asset to our overall program. Mrs. Barbara Dennis, director of girls' physical education, sponsors an annual dance revue.

Modern dancers in a symphony of "Light and Dark" interpret the creation as reported in Genesis.

Those awe inspiring sets and lovely costumes against a colorful background witnessed by Classics' audiences usually originate in the art department. The members of the fashions and creative design classes enter some hot discussions and do real research before approving a final design.

Included in this group are students who will participate in CLASSICS '59.

Sheila Rogul jogs along the track of the "Night Train."

THE MARCHING BAND LOVES A PARADE

High stepping John Turner does his second year of leading the marching band.

Why walk when you can ride, — even though it's by roller skates? That's the idea developed by majorettes, Nancy Hill, Gloria Tracy, Ann Hurst, Nancy Pickens, and Deanna Elliott, when the marching band assisted in downtown parades.

The marching band, 110 strong, was a stimulating sight at all home football games. Once they loaded into buses and accompanied the team to Enid. Their half-time shows were spectacles of precision and spirit. Officers of the group were John Turner, drum major; Jim Smith, ass't; Burge Troxel, Bill Lee, Bill Thompson, David Todd, sgt. at arms; Earl Hefley, Stanley Wiles, Tom Brewer, Mike Bickel, corporals.

With the close of the half, the golden plumes of the marching band flutter into festive formations. Although a tradition with NWC Knights and Ladies, each appearance is spiced with new adventure.

Student publications set a new high this year selling 1600 publication packets in an enrollment of 2,000. The SHIELD, published bi-weekly, is the news center of Northwest Classen activities. In its three years it has been a consistent winner of top awards in state and national judging contests.

Editor, Nancy Pickens, won the Oklahoma county writing contest sponsored by the Ford manufactures and was awarded a trip to Detroit where she competed with student journalists all over the nation in the annual Ford scholarship try.

Larry Lusk is particular about the angle of his picture as he poses Bobby Prock.

ROUND TABLE RECORDS ROLL.

YES, we believe in Gremlins. How else could pictures, whole pages, even the photographer and occasionally a staff member, completely disappear? It's doubtful that Robert Burns was on a yearbook staff but how else could he have written, "The best-laid schemes o'mice and men, Gang aft a-gley"? But we set a new record in sales, came up with a padded cover, notwithstanding Sarge's, "Over-my-dead-body." Best of all we launched on the dummy of the 1960 book soon after the first semester ended. It should be another best-seller. If you've missed being in yearbook, take it from us, it's an experience you'll find no where else.

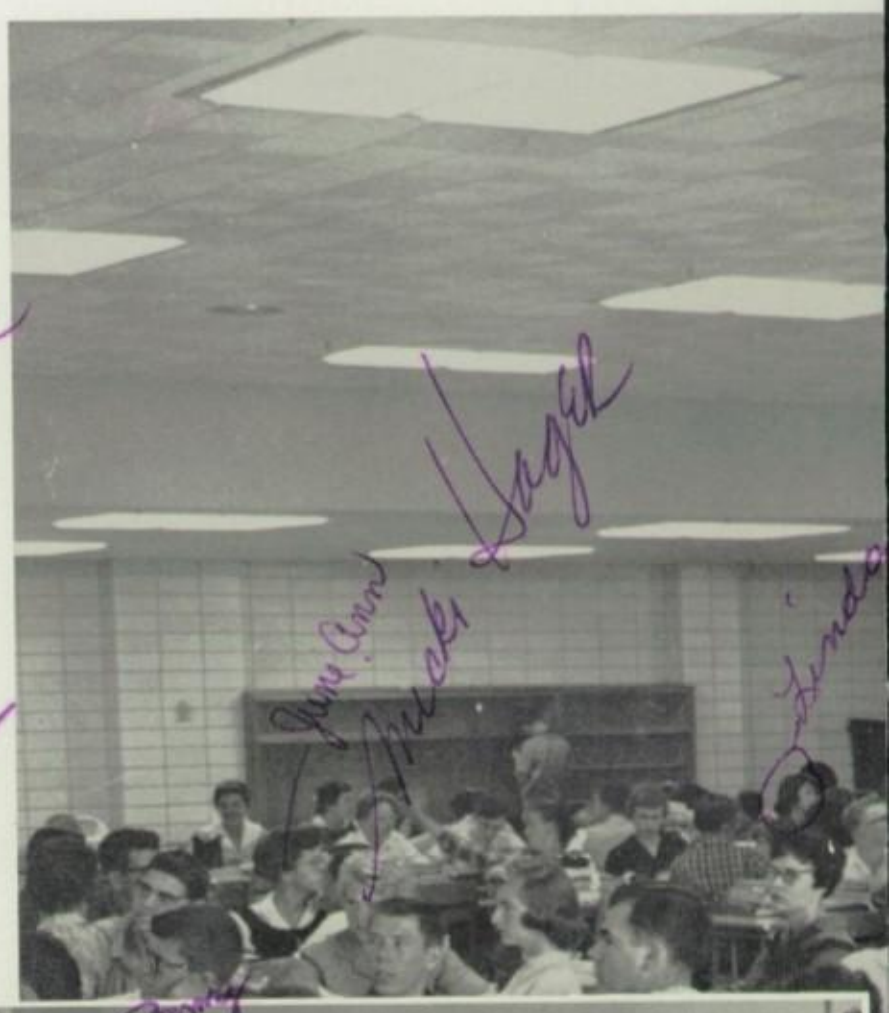
These brilliant uninhibited Okies proved to be chock-full of original ideas that are incorporated in the '59 Round Table under the heading of art. Nice, don't you think? Row 1: Kay Larkins, Ann Williams, Gayle Tiernan, Norma Stuart. Row 2: Judy Croom, Carol Fulbright, Judy Keys, Patsy Smith, Judy Shipley.

Janice Finch, Kent Walker, and Jerry Bednar never realized there could be so many different faces in one box 'til they started sorting Senior class pictures. "Whar'd all these car'cturs cum frum?" drawls Kent.

"Boy, if we could ever decide on anything we could really go to town!" sigh Round Table editors Carolyn Little, Ann Smith, Kay Carlson, Joan Hartman, and Verna Auer.

Even if they had to twist a few arms, (Don Strain's in this case), the sales staff managed to top all previous records by selling 1563 yearbooks. Super salesmen Carol Fulbright, Kay Larkins, Nancy Culbert, Tony Chace, and Janie Reding gloried in a job well done.

Faculty



Faculty get-togethers are fun.

CURRICULUM

TV assistance aids in teacher shortage.

A desk stacked with test papers, an oak chair—straight back! How do our dedicated teachers inspire the uninspiring, teach the unteachable, love the unlovable? At pep rallies they indulge our antics, at games they cheer our Knights, rejoice in victory, forgive defeat. We love 'em. God bless 'em!

"Gosh, I wish I could find a dime,—I'd have a second piece of pie."

Mr. Ivan Beeson with his crew of caretakers keeps our halls and grounds spick and span. Sweeping several miles of corridors each day takes a staff of some eighteen workers divided into day and night shifts.

ART, —
BACKDROP
SHOW.

Display of a superior piece of artwork is as important as learning the fundamentals. Folios created by these students will enter national competition. Jerry Sanders, Ruth Rice, Ann Williams, Emajean Cain, and Kay Stevens.

When a student becomes "bogged-down" with the usual class lectures and home work, he may feel the urge to be creative. Ceramics offers just such an opportunity for those artistically inclined.

A close-up of Gail Groseclose shows how messy a creative artist can get.

SPEECH ACTIVITIES — are the heart of the show!

Debaters were taken under wing by Mr. Dean DeOgny. Activity centered around research on the state question: Resolved: The United States should adopt the essential features of the British system of Education." They were guests of Phillips University, Enid; OBU, Shawnee; OCU, and Central State College, Edmond. They were hosts to the Oklahoma City-wide speech tournament.

Greg Eslinger, Paul Davis, DeWayne Andrews, and John Luton follow lines of a radio play being aired by Lee Hughes, Julie Stephens, Ann Dunford, and Fred Bucklin.

Backstage of the Little Theatre, Mickey Clark studies his lines while Marta Dupree, Susan Long, Gwen McClure, and Ervalene Menn hold a "buzz" session.

"The Women," played by Sandra Ellis, Kay K. Brandes, Delone Johnston, Carolyn Ford, Ann Hurst, Shirley Stewart, and Janet Johnson listen to director, Kay Larkins.

BUSINESS HELPS MANAGE THE SHOW

Mrs. Ivy Copeland, head of Commercial Occupations department, shows Sandra Venters how to operate a dictaphone.

Gaining confidence is an important asset, Miss Jo Alice Hendricks assures her fifth hour typing class.

Machine bookkeeping gives experience in situations that students will meet in actual business employment.

Donna McWilliams computes pages on the Burroughs Bookkeeping Machine.

D.E. AFFORDS EARNING WHILE LEARNING

Beth West, D.E. Sponsor, has projection technique down to a fine art.

C. Turner, K. Williams, J. Harback, and D. Dillon thumb magazine hopefully for new ideas in selling.

Finding things in the files doesn't seem so difficult for J. Ryan, J. Abel, J. Conley, and T. Battles.

"Gee, we can make sharp displays with all this new stuff." J. Hieb, M. Grigsby, D. Pearison, K. Buchanan, O. Williamson, and G. Clancy.

Attractive merchandise displays require time, patience, and knowhow.

NOTHING IS DONE BY HALF IN SCIENCE OR MATH

Mrs. Betty Richards looks on while Adrian Pluess and John Stoneking explore processes that will solve tomorrows problems of how to live better.

Mr. Rodney St. Dizier's math class learns mathematic sequences and solutions by experimental, trial and error, procedures.

Man or mouse, in this case white rats. Bill Kurtz, Karen Dornan and Lewis Irving in research science find reactions to similar conditions do not vary widely.

Dissecting a frog may not be ideal pastime, but ask Joan Stettheimer, Linda Prickett, Mike McMain, Mike Sigmon, Jim Woodward, or Marie Hinshaw what makes the froggie tick and they can tell you.

"READING MAKETH A FULL MAN, WRITING AN EXACT ONE"

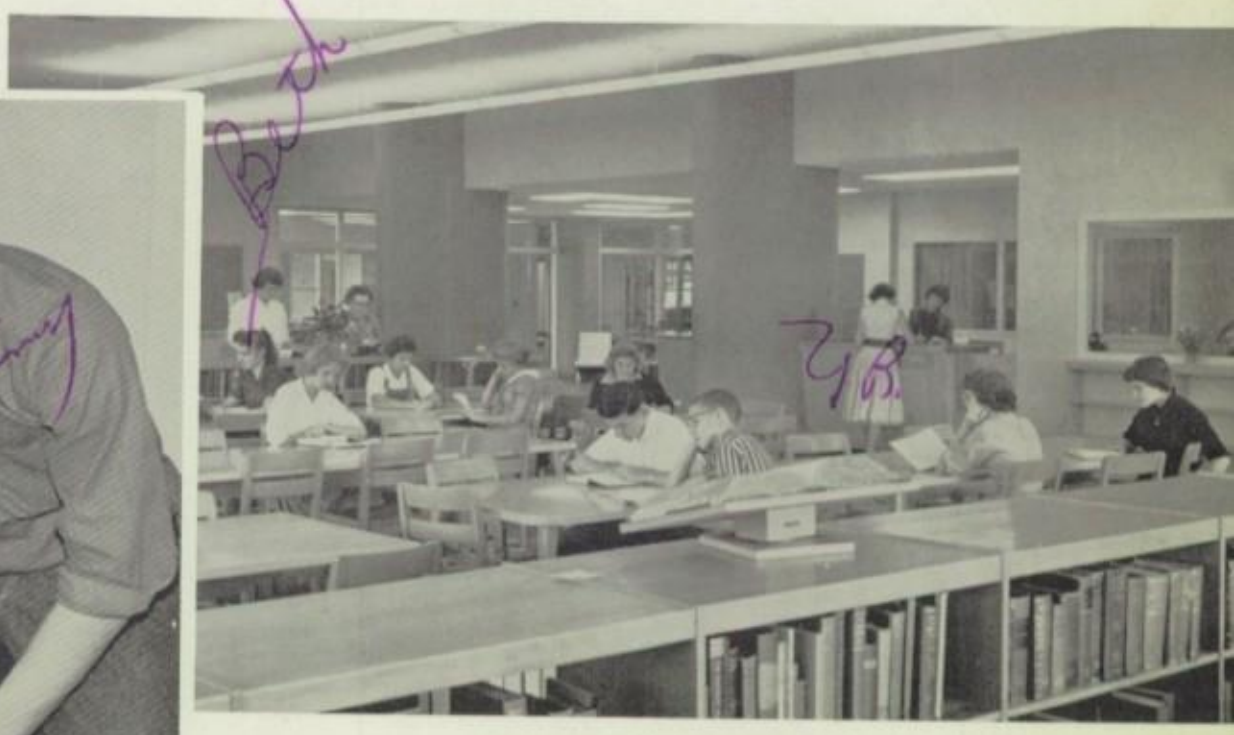
Newest wrinkle in the English department is the course with Miss Katharine Gibson, "Great Books." Seniors enrolled in the course explore numerous phases of the world's best literature and philosophy. Discussions often become heated.

" . . . Words are things, and a small drop of ink Falling like dew upon a thought, produces that which makes thousands, perhaps millions think." One of the most complete English departments anywhere is found at Northwest Classen. Capable and devoted teachers contribute to making it also, one of the most interesting.

As enthusiasm for education increases knowledge of literature and ability in self-expression gain importance.

Team classes in English were on an experimental basis this year. Mrs. Hazel Livingston and Mr. Sidney Ohmart herded some hundred or so through beginning classes.

Terry West and Tom Hendrickson arrange "the forest" of Raveloe village.



Our well equipped, beautifully lighted, comfortable library makes book reports something to be looked forward to with pleasure.

Christmas comes but once a year! Girls in the home decorations class take advantage of it by creating fanciful flimsies for the festive season.

Beverly Homsey and Sandra Shdeed set Sharon Heiney's new dress hem at the current mode. "Remember, no pins in your mouths, girls."

HOMEMAKING —

A many splendored thing!

These girls know that learning to cook may be the key to a happy future.

Those wishing to learn to sew a fine seam, cook a five course dinner, or set a banquet table are welcomed by Miss Shirley Riddle and Mrs. Ramah Miller.

The department features a complete five-room home. There are six kitchens where would-be cooks may practice perfection of the culinary art.

Dress designing learned here may lead to a career.

Child care and home nursing are studied, also.

INDUSTRY ON DISPLAY

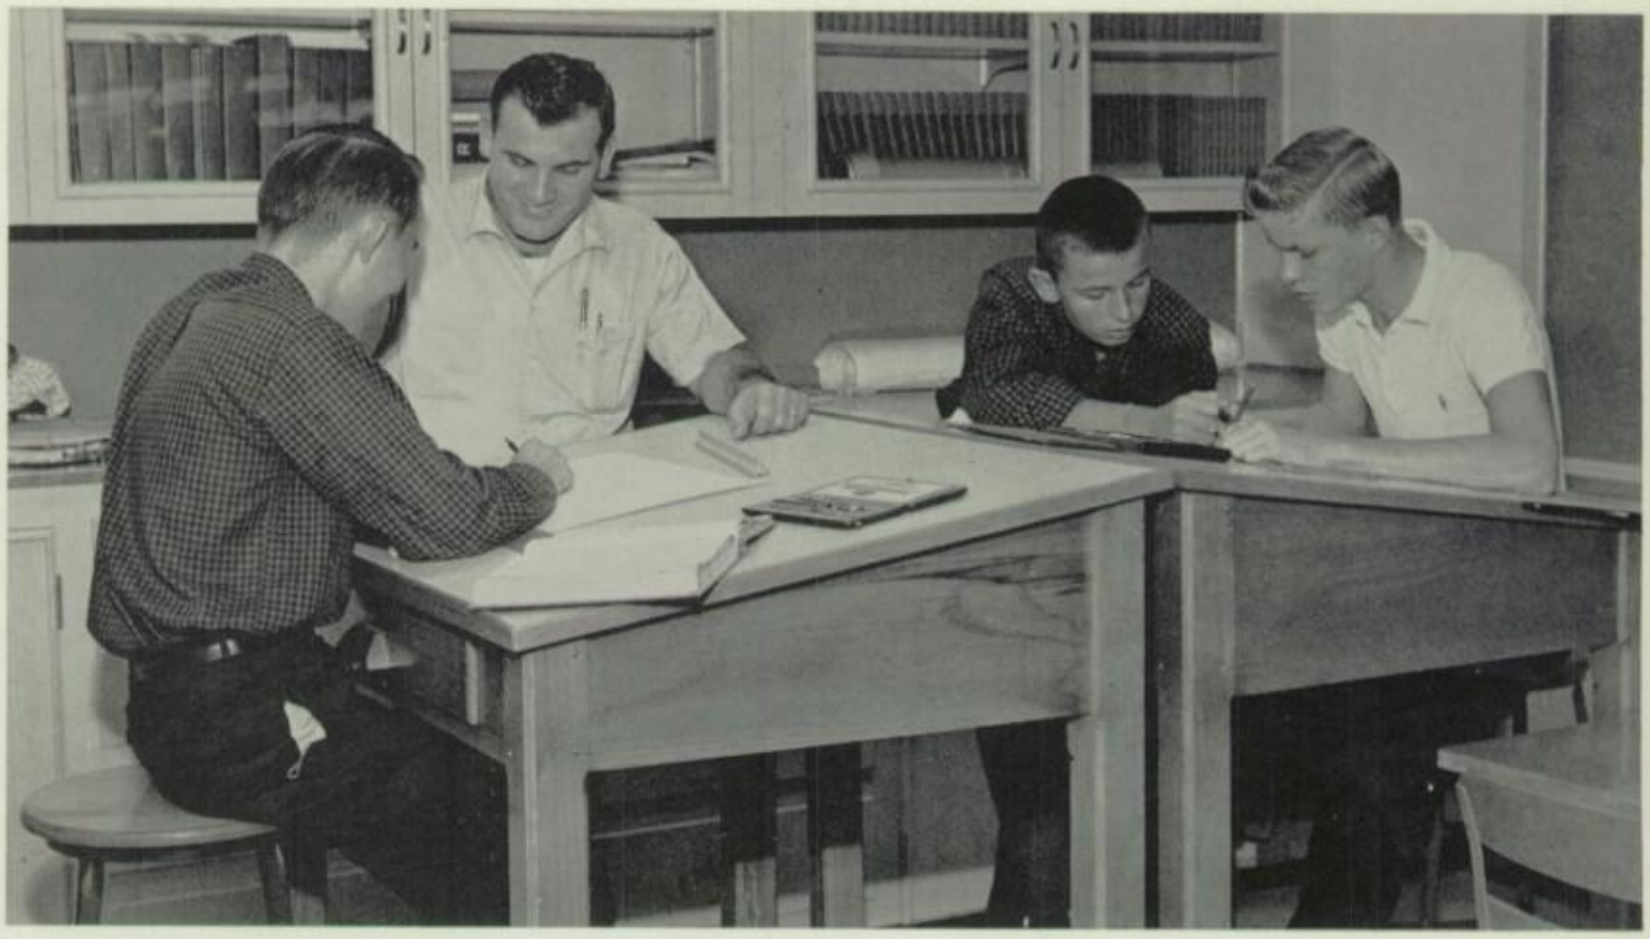
Students in METAL ARTS with Mr. Leonard Marcotte learn among other skills the art of annealing metals.

Getting grease from head to toe seems to delight boys enrolled in AUTO-MECHANICS. Learning that an automobile is not an invention designed for convenience but a triumph of engineering and mechanical skills, contrived of hundreds of parts assembled into a smooth functioning unit is a thrill.

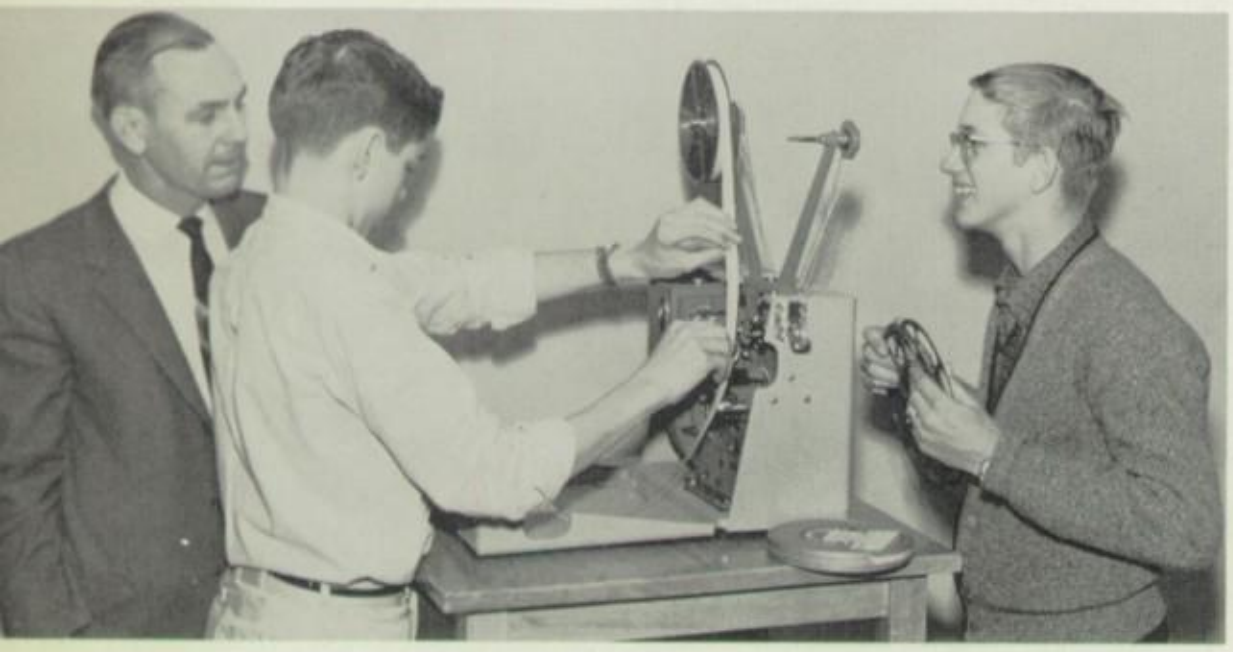
WOODWORKING is an especially well equipped department. Mr. Maurice Ghormley oversees Robert Ruiz surfacing a board, Duane Shipman ripping a board on a circular saw, and Clifford Springer joining the edge of a board on a jointer.

Student in Auto-Mechanics learn that there's more to a car than the steering wheel as they listen to a lecture on the properties of oil.

PRACTICE BRINGS PERFECTION IN MANUAL DEFTNESS



Mechanical drawing requires time, patience and precision.



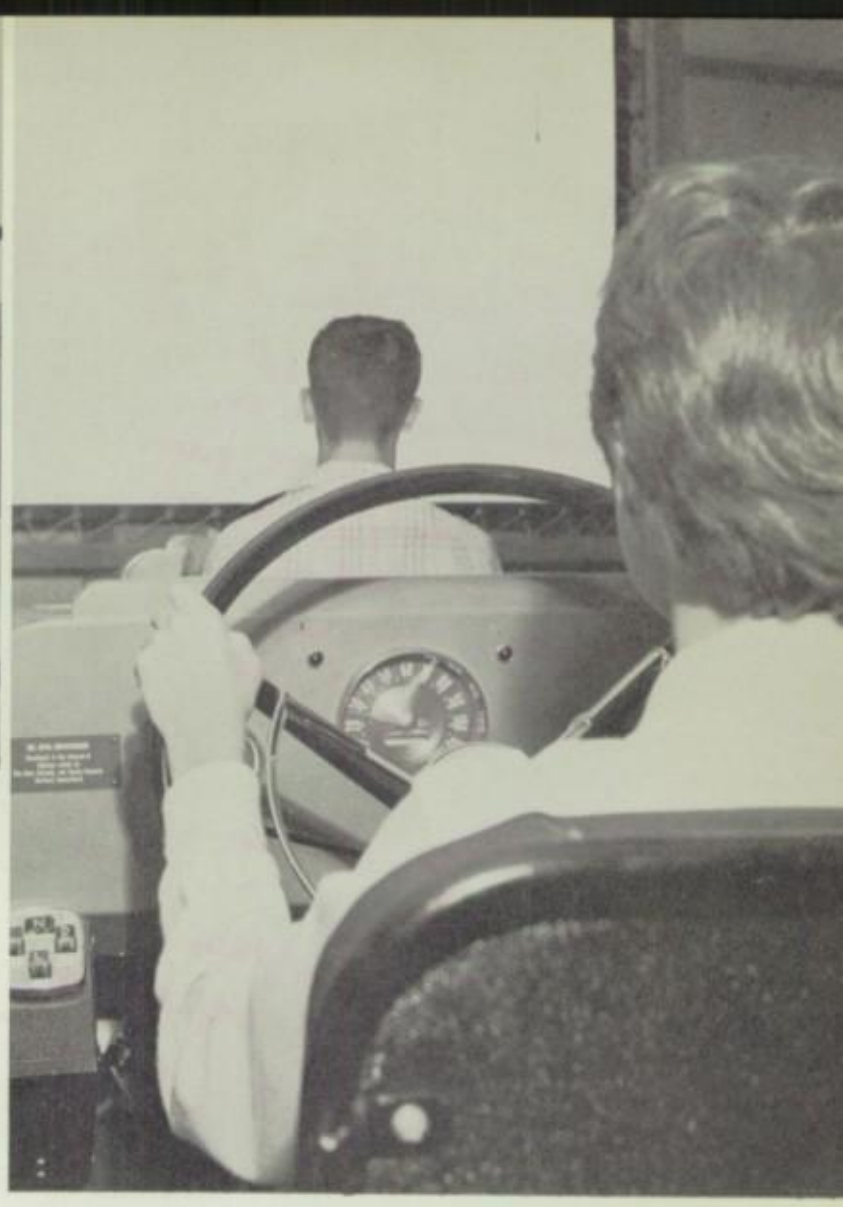
Mr. Alvin Bryan sponsors visual aide activities and trains students in projection of motion pictures. Steve Garman and Scottie Foster rewind a reel.

Shop courses fill an entire building. Mechanical drawing encourages boys interested in engineering to become adept in observing details. Visual aides enlarge student understanding of subjects by expanding frontiers beyond text book matter. Printing affords training in a practical trade. Boys in the printing classes prepared attractive cards and desk pads for Christmas gifts.

Printing is a fairly new offering in Northwest's curriculum. It is proving to be a popular course.

Drive-o-trainer units give beginners safe, sound driving principles.

Dr. Lonnie Gilliland, director, of safety education, poses with Adrain Pluess and Becky Davis, county safety contestants.



Trainees follow a road projected on the screen as they learn to manipulate a car.

GOOD DRIVING AND GOOD PICTURES DEMAND FULL ATTENTION

Marvin Solomon and Robert Ruiz at work in the photography department dark room.

Members of the photography class with Mr. Jas. Hicks go out on location to test light meters and cameras.

CYGNETS

K. McGee
Pres.

A. Hurst
Vice-Pres.

As was true of all of the pep clubs, CYGNETS saw previous efforts begin to jell this year. All of the clubs found recruiting easier and affiliation with a pep club becoming a stronger tradition among us.

Mrs. Evelyn Findly was named head sponsor, aided by Mrs. Helen Willingham, Miss Shirley Riddle, Mrs. Janice Lee and Miss Carol Greniger. Pep clubs do not flourish for athletic benefit alone. They are service groups whose part in aiding the entire extracurricular program cannot be minimized. Biggest social event for CYGNETS each year is the annual banquet honoring the football team, the coaches and their wives, but Cygnets do not coast, they keep busy throughout the year.

"HOW did I get this job?" Cygnet pep clubbers are going to enjoy this jaunt more than their driver will.

We'll always remember sights that helped us fight on football nights.

1. The gallant Knight and his Lady who'd suddenly appear to stir our spirit.
2. Cheerleader fortitude that never waned.
3. Tireless twirlers and their special routines.
4. The abandon of mascots, who really had fun.

"Sure, we won! How could we lose?" Nine bus loads of Cygnets and Coronets cheered the Knights to victory at Elk City.

CORONETS

Capers at pep rallies, civic, welfare and social service projects keep CORONET members busy. Under direction of Miss Ophelia Byars aided by Mrs. Nellie Ecton, Miss Sue Robison, and Miss Ann Whitehead the CORONETS realized their most successful and happiest year.

In the brief span of four years pep clubs have established themselves as probably the most vital organization in the school. As Northwest Classen grows older the importance and prestige of belonging to a pep club will acquire new meaning.

Annually CORONETS honor the basketball team, the coaches and coaches' wives at an awards dinner where players receive their letters.

Few high schools enjoy the spirit of united effort displayed by our pep clubs.

LANCERS ARE CRUDDY — Jerry Beltran

It's that secret ingredient—school spirit—which makes bearable the grind of the long induction season new members to boys pep clubs endure.

LANCERS feel that seven weeks of 'ducing', which includes such menial chores as polishing members' shoes,—morning, noon and night, separates the mice from the men.

While organized to encourage crowd participation in school yells, pep clubs find many other jobs come calling for them. Under tutelage of Mr. Charles Hale, Mr. A. A. Johnson and Mr. Sydney Ohmart, LANCERS have enjoyed a year highlighted by good fellowship and fun, coupled with bountiful participation in community social service by manning polio and other welfare drives.

FALCONS are the best - J. B.

Pep club membership gives each student an opportunity to join in a program designed to promote school spirit. There's nothing "snooty" about these organizations. Membership is by application.

FALCONS feel that helping newcomers to our school find themselves is an important function. Through membership students have a medium for contributing something despite their underclassmen status. Membership also affords widened acquaintanceship.

The annual initiation dinner, observed by both boys' clubs is planned and served by the inductees. Guests are the members, parents and faculty friends. The experience supplies the boys with a feeling of service to others while learning to be a host is an art the boys can practice with pride.

FALCON sponsors are Mr. Duane Weinert, assisted by Mr. Steve Ellis.

STUDENT SENTENCES ARE SEVERE

The Judicial Department consists of the Supreme Court and Proctor Court. The Supreme Court consists of four justices and one chief justice. If any act of the Proctor Court is challenged the Supreme Court either upholds or rejects it.

Proctor Court consists of three rotating judges and an advisory judge. The Proctor Court jury is chosen by lot. No student may serve more than once each year as juryman. Proctors and Student Council members are tried before the Supreme Court.

Judy Black at her proctor post challenges the yearbook photographer for a building pass. "You don't got one, you don't pass!"

Students stop regularly to admire the National Honor Society symbols in the display box.

Initiation to the National Honor Society is the goal of ambitious juniors and seniors. Outstanding leadership and citizenship records, as well as top scholastic grades, are necessary. A senior must be in the top ten per cent of his class. For juniors it is the upper five per cent.

Project for this year was purchase of a 15"x24", mahogany-finished plaque on which a roll of members will be kept. The plaque will be displayed in a prominent place.

Being invited to join QUILL and SCROLL is an honor looked forward to by earnest workers in journalism, creative writing and art. Two initiations a year keep members aware of the precepts the Society encourages them to emulate in Truth, Learning, Leadership, Loyalty, Initiative, Integrity, Confidence, Judgment, Dependability and Friendship. Membership comes as recognition of ability and is public acknowledgment of a members increasing importance to journalism and school life. The key to world peace is universal understanding which can come eventually through man's power to communicate effectively with each other.

Quill and Scroll members listen attentively as Ted Chambers reads announcement of the latest Quill and Scroll writing contest. Clockwise, Judy Keys, Shelley Safdi, Ann Williams, Ted Chambers, Janice Finch, Sue Hinchey, Nancy Pickens, Kay Carlson.

Mrs. Nevva Sartin, Sponsor, hangs another honor on our rapidly growing patchwork of awards.

IT'S FUN TO HELP OTHERS

Counselor aides to Miss Retha Hulet, Miss Inez Ellis, Mr. George Brucher, Mrs. Dorothy Hamilton, and Mr. A. A. Johnson are Judy Grimes, Judy Shirk, Karen Kostka.

You'll never guess who is under this sheet, (and we'll never tell). But "Sarge" would do anything to get a picture for the yearbook. Aides to Mrs. Nola Moore, R.N. are Kay Carlson and Carol Black.

AIDES EARN CREDIT FOR ERRANDS

Mrs. Nancy Treichler, Mr. Roblyer's secretary, supervises Jane Coughlin operating the switch board.

Office aides willingly give up a study hall to take on routine attendance office duties assisting Mrs. Delma Harris, attendance clerk. Third hour aides are Mary Kay Hitt, Suzanne Moore, Kathy Roller, Kay Odom, Joan Mullens, Nancy Wilson.

CAREER CLUB was the name chosen by the group formerly known as Commercial club when confronted with choosing a new name. This is the largest departmental club in the school and one of the busiest. Since many members are on jobs before and after school, meetings are held the second hour once a month. Commercial occupations studied include machine, bookkeeping, clerical and office practices, featuring fundamental principles of business machines, dictaphone, sound scriber, transcriber, telephone techniques and appropriate office dress. The fine points of proper business letters as well as routine office work get attention. Classes are conducted in same manner that like operations are employed in business situations.

TEAM BATTLE ADA COUGARS

Gary London's completion of a pass in Ada ball game boosted the Knight's score to 20.

Northwest Classen Knight's break through the traditional hoop of Purple and Gold officially opens each home game.

The '58 football season was filled with triumphant shouts of glee. NWC Knights joyfully traveled to Amarillo, Texas, to a beautiful high school, Palo Duro, only to be downed by the Tascoans. But that didn't stop our Knights for they returned to take vengeance on the Southeast Spartans, 53-12. That win over Southeast fired the Knights enough to make them creep by the Harding Eagles 31-27. Next game on the schedule was with arch rival, Capitol Hill. Knights showed fine sportsmanship when they uncomplainingly accepted this loss, 24-8. Although the Hillmen passed the Knights, all-around Knight spirit bounced back to vamp Northeast's Vikings 22-14. Ready and willing for more action Coach Irwin's boys outcharged the Shawnee Wolves, 22-6. With a well-seasoned winning streak they downed Douglass Trojans, 28-0. Trojan scalps still fresh, Northwest Classen journeyed to Enid for its fourth conference game to emerge victor, 24-6. Still not satisfied, Knight gridders stormed to a 31-14 win over the Elk City Elks. An enthusiastic homecoming crowd inspired the Knights to show superior qualities in the seasons final game, when they set the Ada Cougars on their toes by being the only team to score more than six points against them. Determined Cougars finally moved past the stubborn Knights 32-20.

Rushing for the showers, the B squad players are eager to get back to see the A squad in action.

SEASON RESUMÉ

In a season of ups and downs our ROUNDBALL TEAM composed of five seniors, eight juniors, and two qualified sophomores, rammed through a schedule of 24 games. Northwest conquered eight of her nine fellow City high school contenders. Most of the losses encountered showed very narrow margins. "Sudden death" episodes plagued a season marked by good attendance and abundant school spirit.

Shawnee in a mid-February contest demolished the Knights' hopes for a Mid-State berth by a one-point overtime upset.

Leading the City in defense kept up a rivalry that sparked spirit. A record crowd filled the gym to capacity for the Harding game.

High point man on the squad was Tommy Ward.

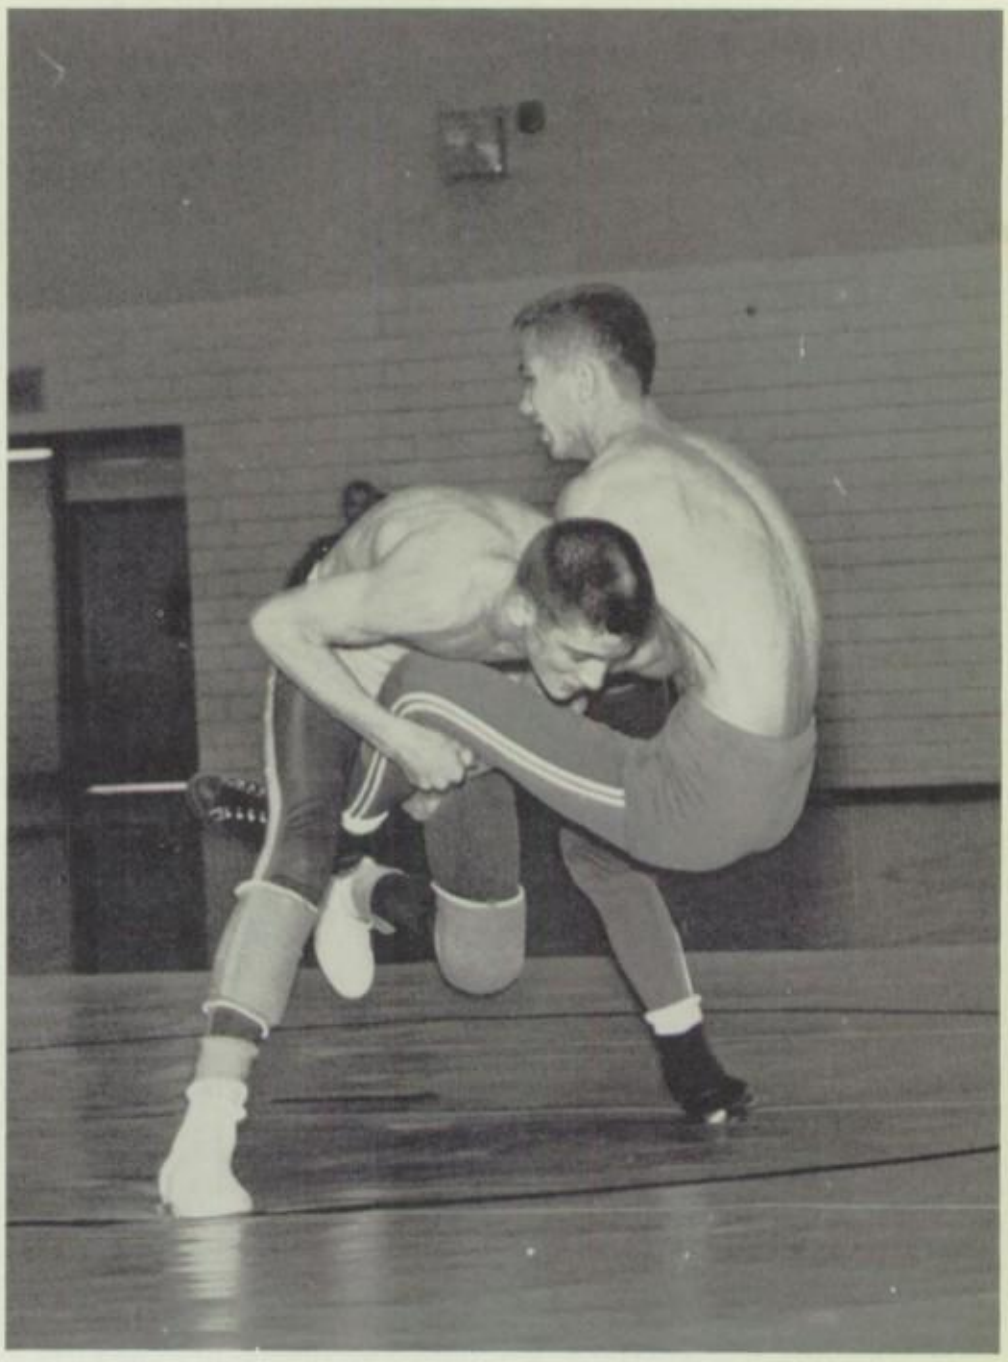
YET NEWEST, SPORT

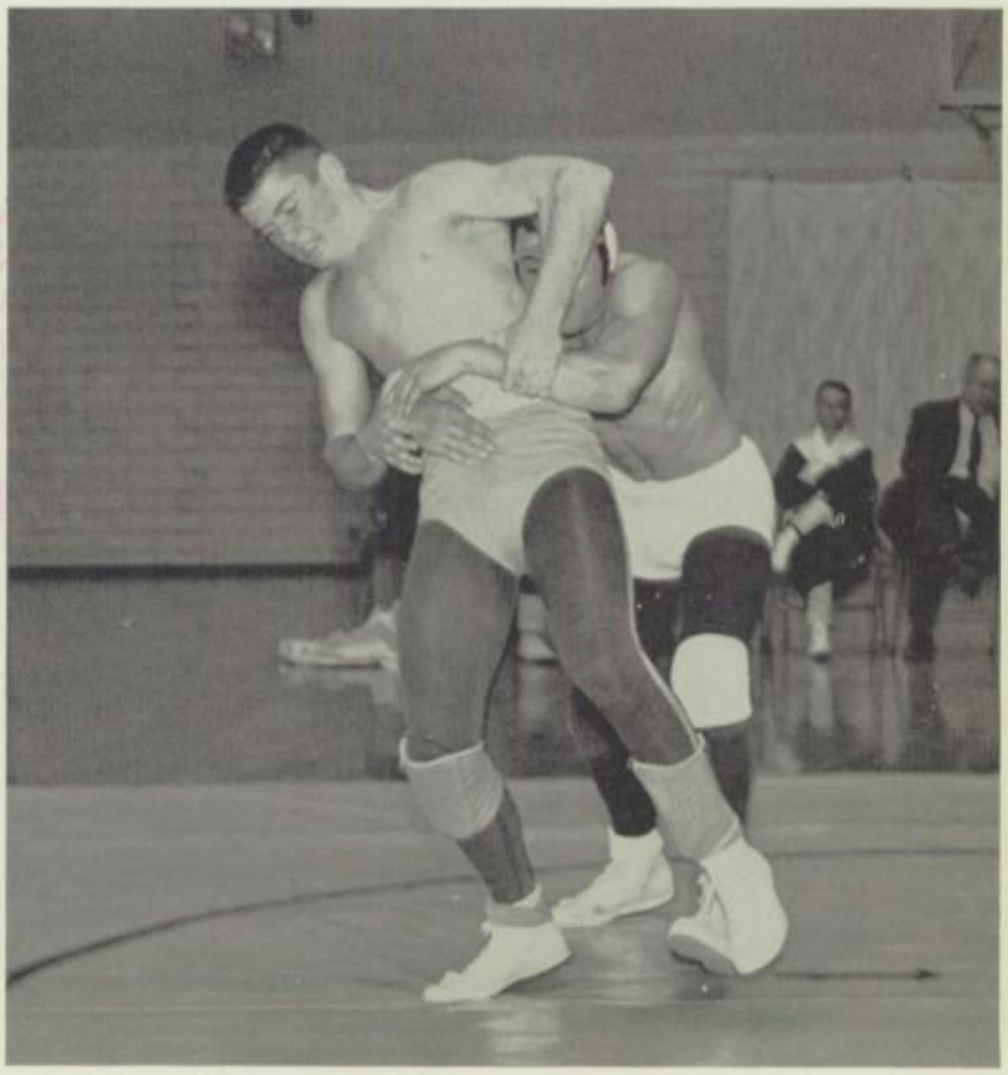
Northwest Classen entered the City meet and came out with a second in team scoring and three individual firsts. Ricky Wade, Jann Christian, and Stan Harrison achieved these. Decisive victories over City teams in the Geary Invitational meet brought the next laurels.

The regional wrestling tournament turned out to be full of thrills. Three of the team, Christian, Harrison, and Wade, won individual championships, qualifying them to enter state tournament competitions.

In State Tournament at Perry, Ricky Wade came within a whisker of stopping Carter of Tulsa Will Rogers in semi-finals but dropped a 10-9 on a reverse in the last eleven seconds coming off with a third place. Stan Harrison met Sims of Ponca City in semi-finals.



Jann Christian in the process of getting a single-leg pick up.



Dan Harrison attempts stand-up escape.

AIR AND WATER FUN

Boys' tennis at N.W.C. is made unique by annual presentation of the Gene Land Award.

Toppers were Bill Thompson, Mike Arnold, and Johnny Rose, and three year letterman, Jay Maxwell.

Girls' tennis opened with an Invitational Tournament, Wichita Falls, Texas. Jeanne Cox and Jane Ann Steadley were team toppers. Carolyn Louis was number-one contender in singles.

THE WEATHER OUTSIDE IS, — WELL, IT'S OUTSIDE

Run, run, run, — then run some more. That's the story of the CROSS COUNTRY crew. Mr. Leonard Marcotte coaches this activity. Over hill and dale these joggers brave winter snows and summer suns. They claim it's fun.

Kirk Hagan, kingpin of cross country, snared a City championship; two second places in regionals and placed in O.S.U. and State meets. In track: 1st AAU State indoor; Champ of 600 yard; 4th in AAU indoor 880. Kirk was still going strong as we went to press, March 1.

John Ellis practices passing the baton to Bill Overstreet.

LET IT SNOW? OH, NO!

J. S. Tier easily clears the hurdle as he practices for perfection during pre-season workouts.

Relay milers, Hal Merriman, Rick Dunlevy, Deal Bowman, Phil Howell, gave good account of themselves in state meets.

Eight trackmen will leave the squad at graduation time. Row 1: Foster, Standefer, Godfrey, Parkhill, Howell, Hagan, Tier, Bowman, Ellis, Dunlevy. Row 2: Aleshire, Bailey, Rodgers, Moncrief, Buchanan, Merriman, Howard, Shock, Overstreet, Meister, Stevens. Row 3: Francis, Spear, Coley, Young, MacKellar, Walls, Perry, Haggard, manager; Coach Rex Irwin.

Coach Davis and his crafty clubbers came close to State in '58. Kneeling: Jerry Sealy, Gary London, Sandy Sorenson, J. D. Reynolds, Coach Davis. Standing: Mike Miller, Jann Christian, Richard Glasgow, Buzz McDonald, Bill Sullivan, Steve Pace, Fred Foster, Larry Bartlette, Bob Purdy.

Sparked by nine seniors, playing their final stands in Knightland, '59 diamondaires faced a promising season. Relying on seasoned players who took the club to the brink of State last year, Coach Clay Davis, although a bit short on pitchers, feels excellent fielding, shown thus far in practice this spring, can make the club a power. Round Table sports editors can only hazard a guess at the outcome, copy delivery dates considered. Plagued by a slow, chilly spring baseballers were chafing at delays and postponed games as of April 1. Four junior classmen, two sophomores and a couple of promising freshmen, will constitute club holdovers. Three of these, versatile Mike Miller, Jann Christian, ss position, and Larry Bartlette, rf, will be seasoned players. Steve Pace and Bob Purdy, sophomores, were suited for the '59 season.

Entr'acte

A preview peek.

The signature party that greets the Round Table is tremendous.

Relief from the blare of class bells, droning voices reciting rote, weight of books, flat heels, too comfortable dresses and boys in jeans—jeans—jeans. Ah, these are the moments we'll remember. Vive la bagatelle! Banish care, on with the Classics!

SEPTEMBER REALLY SENDS US.

Some are happy—some,—well. But no one misses that first big "Hello" session.

Sandra Mace and David McCarty record for posterity, the dance vogue la 1958.

Music of the Teen Kings insured success for the traditional "Howdy" mixer, first social on a new school year calendar.

Harding's Cheerleaders paid a visit to our pep assembly preceding the annual football game.

"Decorate a car," sold crepe paper for the Student Store and built spirit for the Harding game.

Darlene Mielenz, Sue Mashore, Glenda Lou Donell, Deanne Elliot, Tom McGee, Bob Coulter, Tom Emerson, and Tom Hendrickson were the mystery personalities at the Howdy Mixer.

"Say prunes, please!" As sure as September comes there'll be yearbook pictures and Mr. Owen taking them.

Members of Junior and Senior Courtesy Club provide models for various sport outfits in the D.E. Style Show.

L. Rice, H. Lamirand, S. Wilson, G. Duncan, N. Roberts, B. Clemons, K. Odom, B. Sullivan, J. Robinson, and J. Levin model formal clothes.

OCTOBER FOUND US REALLY ROLLING!

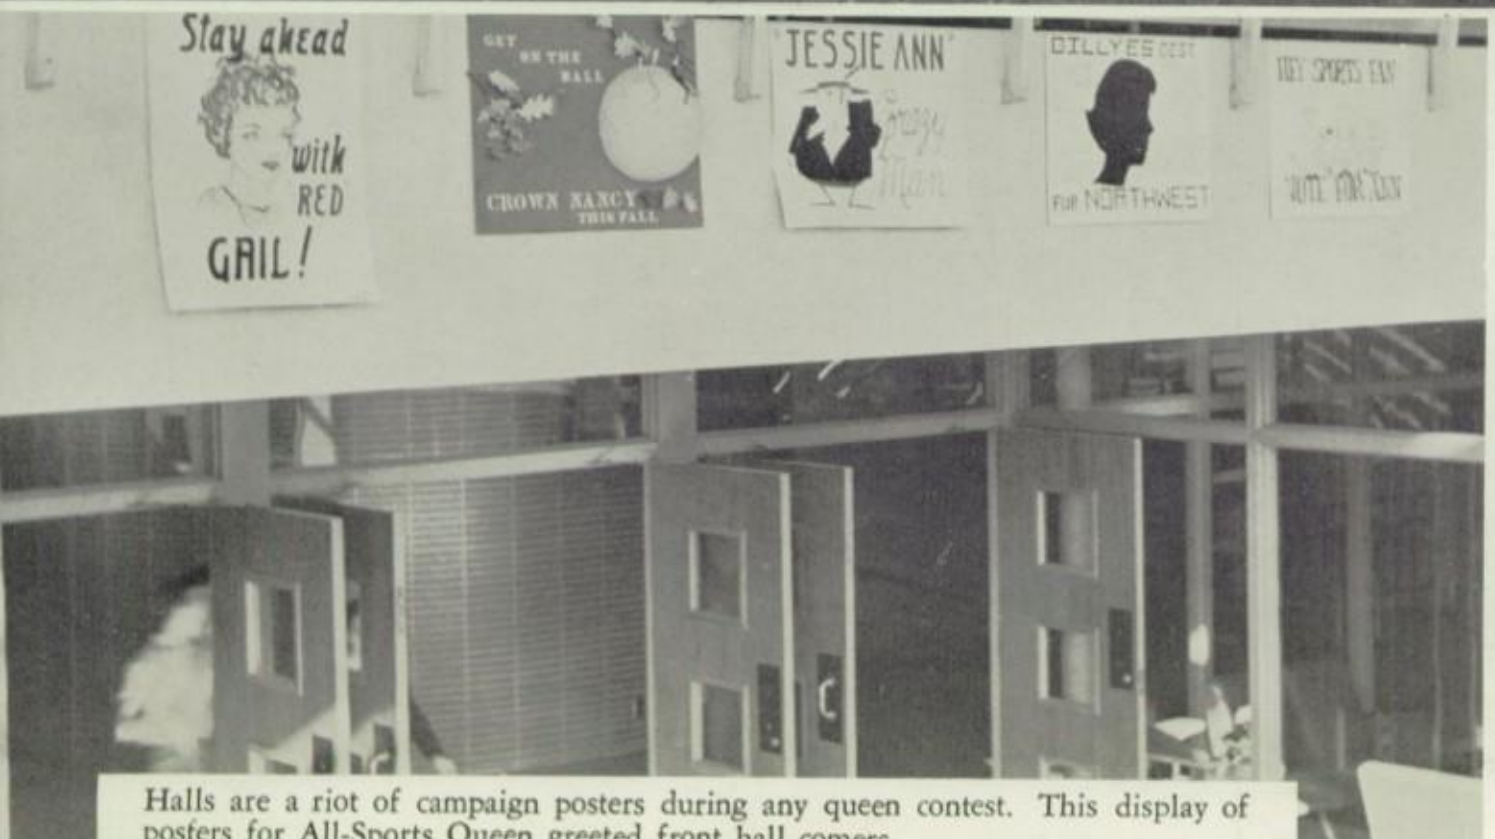
One bon fire per year is our quota. We save it for the rally that marks the pep building spree that precedes the Capitol Hill contest

Kirk Hagan, president of Boys "O" Club, crowns Gail Groseclose '58-'59 All-Sports Queen.

Kathy and Karen French wait patiently for their part in the All-Sports Queen Coronation.

FASHIONS, FORMALS, FLAMS, AND FIRE WORKS!

Candidates for '58-'59 All-Sports Queen, nominated by Boys "O" Club, were Gail Groseclose, Billye Battles, Nancy Roberts, Ann Hurst, and Jessie McDowell.



Halls are a riot of campaign posters during any queen contest. This display of posters for All-Sports Queen greeted front hall comers.

"What we couldn't sell we ate." Remember that candy selling spree that raised money for the trip to New York City to the Press Conference at Columbia University?

WESTERN DAY COMES BUT ONCE A YEAR

These western-day hombres are the same students we meet in the halls on regular days.

Richard Newton, class of '57, drummer deluxe, re-creates one of his once familiar routines.

Jerry Montgomery explains the meaning of the school emblem to our exchange student from Holland, Joan Streef.

Richard Holcomb, president of the Alumni Association, issues grad, Steve Wilson a membership card while Susan Mauer, chairman of the Homecoming Committee, and June Hulme, A.A. secretary, watch attentively.

NEVER AN IDLE MOMENT ON OUR HANDS

Left: "Gad, how many advisories do we have?" The Round Table sales staff created a frieze of Knights as an incentive to stimulate yearbook sales. Each Knight wears a percentage barometer up his front.

Bottom: A white tree matches a whiter Christmas.

Cygnet Banquet guests hear Mr. Rex Irwin recount exploits of the football season.

Head football coach, Mr. Rex Irwin, and assistant football coach, Mr. Clay Davis, present Buzz McDonald with his letter at the Cygnet Banquet, which honors our football heroes.

Nancy Pickens, Lancer Queen, is escorted to the throne by Larry LaBlanc.

WHEN DECEMBER COMES

Candles, Carols, and Christmas!

Carolyn Sliger rearranges one of the approximately 60 plaques and medals she has won in nine years of competitive performances. Remarkable Carolyn, who made a journey below the Equator this winter to skate in New Zealand, was formerly a polio victim.

JANUARY FOUND US JUMPING!

Standing in line for lockers is an experience all Northwest students have met.

Do Inkslingers drink ink? Judi Anderson, SHIELD page two editor, and Jimmy MacKellar contentedly participate in the Inkslingers Ball, city-wide journalists annual frolic. John Marshall was host school this year.

Nancy Pickens, SHIELD editor, and Larry Lusk, staff photographer, were nominees for king and queen of City Inkslingers.

They earned 'em. That's why they got 'em! Mrs. Barbara Dennis and Mrs. Ouida Gable, team sports coaches, distribute letters to initiates at the annual "O" Club Banquet.

Jann Christian of Boys "O" Club presents President, Kirk Hagan, with a token of appreciation from fellow club members.

Abigail Van Buren national read advice columnist, addressed members of Oklahoma City Interscholastic Press Association in a youth press conference January 28, at the Board of Education. These privileged journalists greeted this experience with unconfined fervor.

Bill Kurtz, Pat Merkle, Tom Brewer, Ken Bolt, John Turner and Jonnie Lou Johnson were semi-finalists in National Merit Scholarship tests. Johnson, Bolt, and Turner were finalists in National Honor Society Scholarship competition.

Carolyn Louis thrills to the occasion as Burge Troxel crowns her '58-'59 queen of Falcon Pep Club.

Stage crew craftsmen complete construction of "THE MONEY TREE" featured in Classics '59. Life is never dull for these hardy individuals.

Designing the Classics program cover was assigned to the art department. There must have been many heated discussions.

FEBRUARY FORGED FORWARD

Looking calm isn't easy with butterflies in your tummy. Round Table candidates and managers assemble for the pre-coronation picture set up for feature pages.

Buzz McDonald and Kathy Riley, Senior Top Teens, play the record player while relaxing in the student lounge.

Junior Top Teens, Charlyne Ryland and Stan Harrison, discuss the latest edition of the Northwest Classen Shield and Roto.

TOP TEENS, sponsored by the journalism department, is promoted to help discover leaders among lower classmen. This opportunity for honorary recognition has no campaign or run-off. Each class nominates from within the ranks of its own class by written ballot. The classman totaling the highest number of votes, providing he qualifies, is TOP TEEN of his class.

Qualifications are publicized in THE SHIELD just prior to the contest.

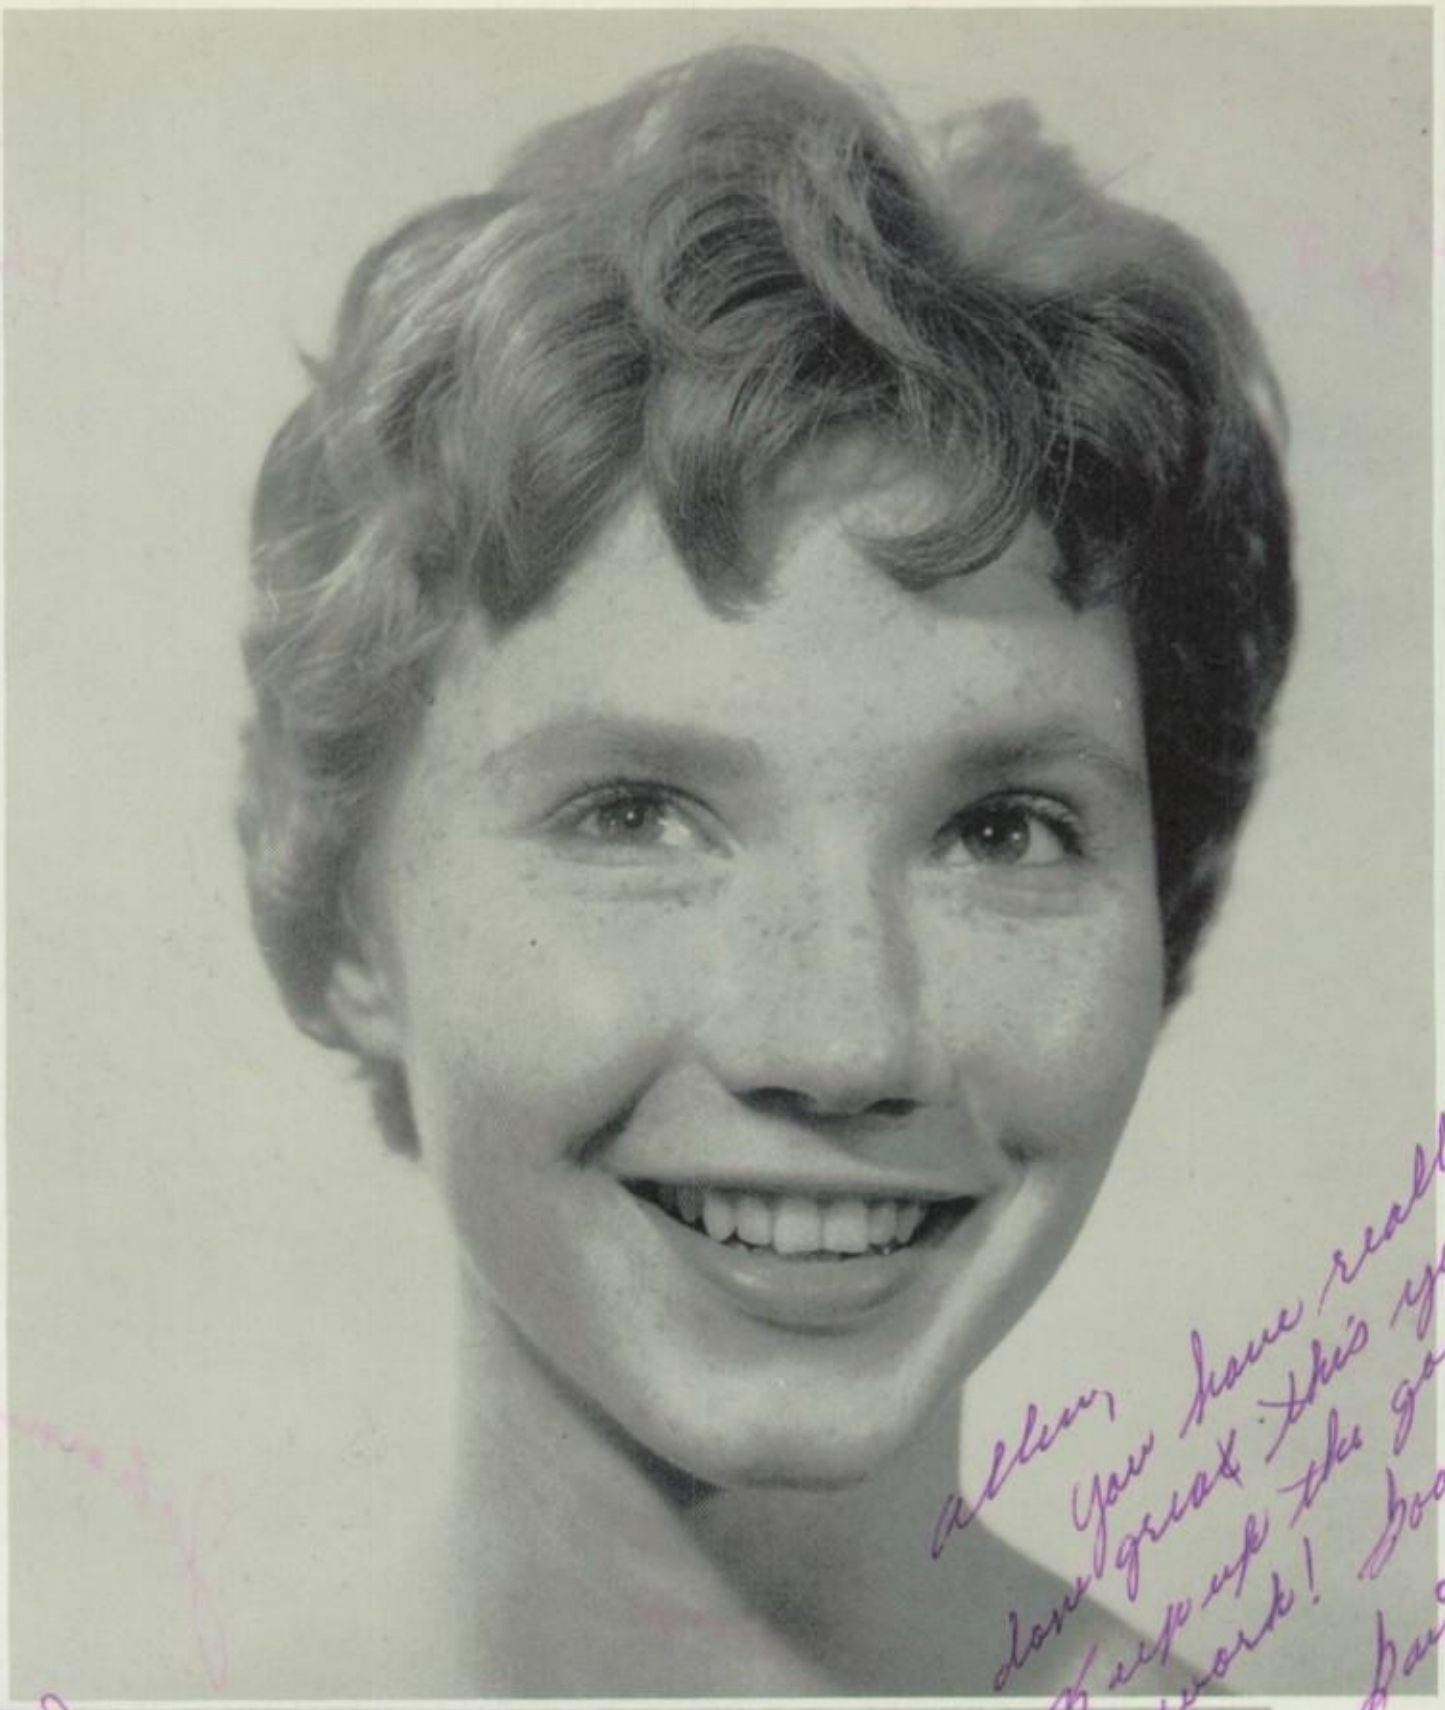
QUEEN OF SPORTS '58-'59

Gail Groseclose



First royalty named in Northwest Classen Court each year is Queen of Sports. Coronation ceremonies honor all sports with representative players of each appropriately dressed. Queen candidates receive trophies naming each a princess of two sports. Boys' "O" Club sponsors the event. Candidates and campaign managers were Billye Battles—J. D. Reynolds; Jessie McDowell—Gary London; Gail Groseclose—Jim Frogge; Nancy Roberts—Steve Godfrey; Ann Hurst—Don Strain. Kirk Hagan "O" Club, president presided.

QUEEN OF ROUND TABLE "1959"

Mary Lynn Mitchell

Highest ranking queenship Northwest Classen Knights and Ladies bestow is Round Table Queen. Winner of this honor is top-drawer secret until the day the yearbooks arrive. The Queen and her Court then host, along with the yearbook staff, the merriest mixer of the year, The Annual Autographing party. Candidates and campaign managers were Lynda Marchman—Bill Sullivan; Shirley Stewart—Sandy Sorenson; Mary Lynn Mitchell—Jan Parkhill; Linda Rice—Gary Duncan; Kay McGee—Randy Roark.

PROCTOR QUEEN

Judie Black

Proctor Queen candidates are selected and chosen by members of the Proctor Association. A candidate is named from each hour's staff. Climax of the event is the Proctors' mixer where the winner is announced. This year's queen was Judie Black. Judie was crowned by John Stoneking and presented a white coat bearing appropriate insignia.

CRY-SLUR SWEETHEART

Camille Emerson

Candidates for Cry-slur Sweetheart were nominated and voted on at the first of the school year by Cry-slurs. Camille Emerson was crowned queen at a party given in her honor. She was presented with a full length white coat bearing the Cry-slur emblem.

FALCON QUEEN

Carolyn Louis

This year the Falcon Pep Club chose Carolyn Louis their queen. Carolyn was chosen from five candidates voted on by the members of the club. A white coat bearing the club name and symbol was presented to the queen at a Christmas formal. Carolyn was Coronet Pep Club president, active in, speech and Classics and attended Girls' State '58.

LANCER QUEEN

Nancy Pickens

Lancer queen is chosen from five candidates selected by members. Each girl attends club meeting during her candidacy. Boys vote in secret and the winner is crowned at a formal held in her honor. Remaining candidates are honored as attendants to the queen. Nancy Pickens, majorette and Shield editor was the Lancers '58-'59 choice.

Lady of Friendship

GARY LONDON
Knight of Friendship

Friendship candidates were Tommy McGee, Sue Wilson, Kay Odam, Bob Haley, Kipp Ketcham, Gary London, Sandy Sorenson, Kay Carlson, Randy Roark, and Carolyn Miller.

Knight and Lady of Friendship activities coincide with St. Valentine's Day. School-wide nominations select ten seniors for this honor.

Awards are an opportunity to dress up for a coronation assembly, winners having their names perpetuated on a tall, golden loving cup bearing the slogan: "Friendship is as God, who gives and asks no payment," kept on display in the trophy case, and a special page in the Round Table.

QUEEN OF HEARTS

Queen of Hearts, or Band Queen, is Northwest Classen's newest royalty.

Members of the Band Girls' Club sponsor an annual dance at which one of five candidates is elected queen by patrons of the affair.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION QUEEN

Emajean Cain

Knights and Ladies of Northwest Classen Court delight in dubbing fellow students for positions of royalty within the Realm.

Candidates for Sports Queen are nominated by members of Boys' "O" Club to be elected by the entire student body. Only Round Table Queen is a school-wide nomination. Other queens are nominated and elected within their own groups. Qualifications for queenships are established by Student Council and regulations are strictly applied. This is also true of campaign activities candidates conduct.

Identity of Round Table Queen is top-secret until the coronation assembly, May 15, which is just prior to distribution of yearbooks.

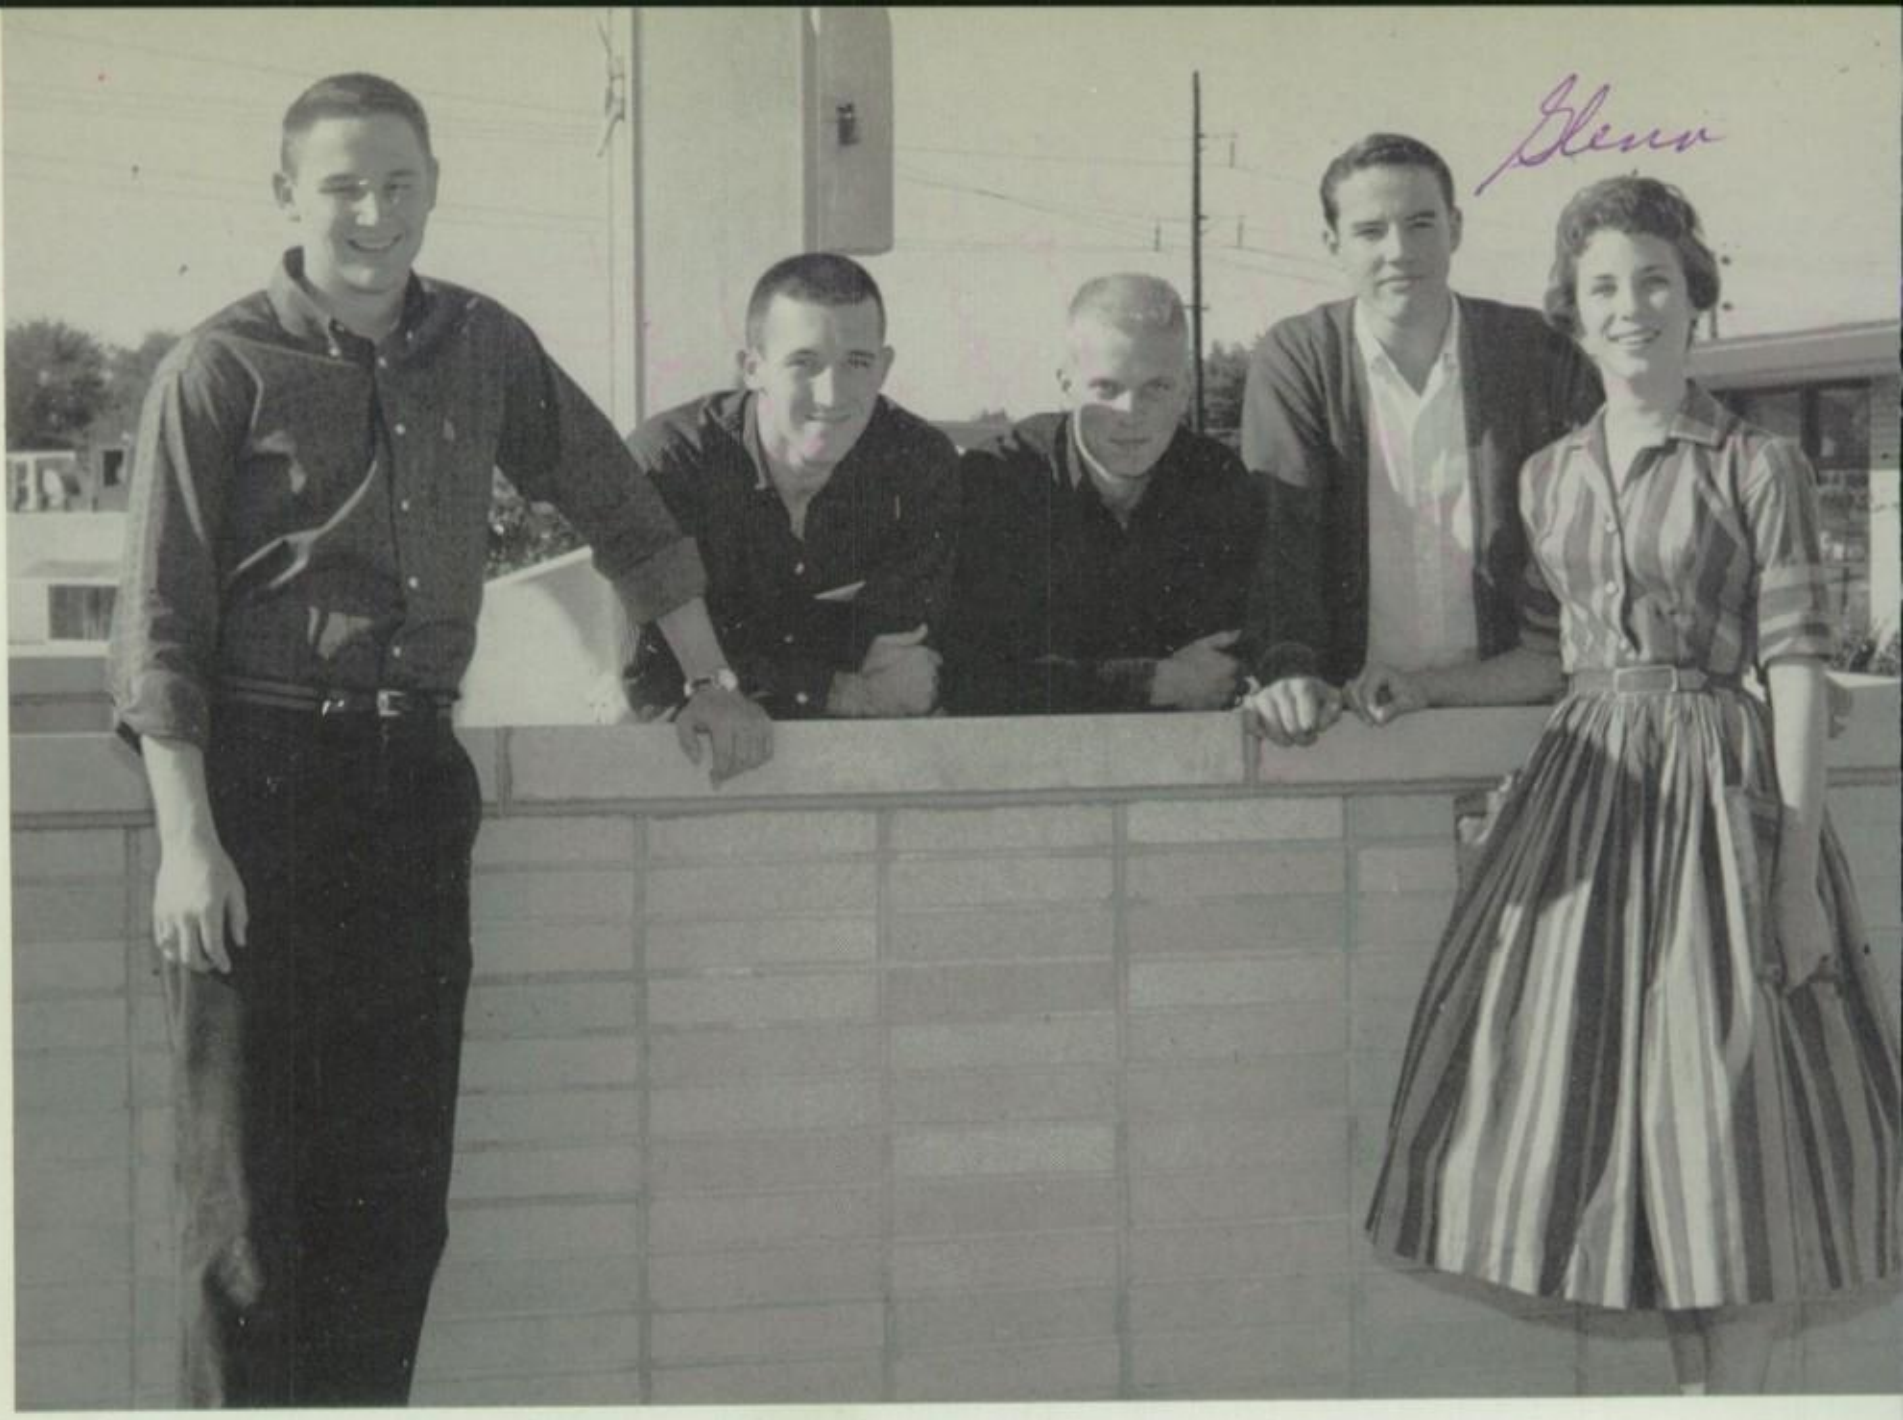
Class of 62

Presidents of the four classes meet in the Oklahoma room of the library to discuss designs prepared by the art department for the four pep clubs and the school. Senior president, Don Strain and Bob Messinger, sophomore, approve the one selected for the school. Freshman, Russell Lawson and Tom Ward, junior, heartily agree.



Proud to have been elected top officers of the senior class, Don Strain, president, Ken Bolt, vice president, Kay Carlson, secretary, Gary London, treasurer, and Glen Haswell, sergeant at arms, assemble to have their picture made.

CLASS OF '59

This group at the Junior-Senior Prom seem to be trying to get Larry Lusk's camera back in condition to take pictures of the affair.

Being a high school senior is a once in a life time experience. But what an experience!!!

We've had fun but we've learned there are responsibilities, too. We are convinced that schools are meant for learning.

While we did not share with the first classes the actual experiences of seeing our school constructed, since there were doors on the classrooms, shades on the windows, a cafeteria and an auditorium by the time we arrived. However, we are proud of the part we have had in helping establish traditions that will become Northwest Classen. We have each contributed something that no one else could give. We shall eagerly return to witness future developments.

That in-between feeling that often plagues sophomores didn't take root in our group. We were too busy making places for ourselves in Classics, clubs, sports and scholastically. Sophomores are proud of their classmates in football and basketball. They point with pride to Karen Knott, outstanding vocalist in "CLASSICS of '58."

Sophomores were the backbone of the first all-school play of this year, Noel Coward's "BLITHE SPIRIT." Several of us are staffers on the student newspaper and the yearbook. We have places in debate and Little Theatre.

Class enthusiasm gave us power to compete with upperclassmen on all fronts. We are sharing in making Northwest Classen the top high school in the state. We plan to keep it there.

"Hello, this is Phillip Wimpey, sergeant at arms of the freshman class at Northwest Classen. We need a band for our party." Sharing in the search are Sue Lynn Mashore; secretary, Russell Lawson; president, Jeanne Cooper; vice president, and Jill Reber; treasurer.

FRESHMEN EAGERLY ACCEPT SENIOR HIGH CHALLENGE

Spirit . . . fun . . . enthusiasm . . . these were the lively freshmen. Bewildered? Of course. "It's so big! . . . I'm lost! . . . Where's room 212? . . . Elevator pass? . . . Well . . . okay." These were many of the comments heard. Elections in late October chose class officers. Each freshmen fondly recalls dances, slumber parties, teas, picnics, and studying, too. All the excitement and hoarseness of football games and then get-togethers at Sussey's afterwards . . . Fabulous days on band and choir trips . . . Sending and receiving invitations, corsages, and thank you notes . . . Christmas vacation. Parties, parties, and more parties . . . Selling cokes at basketball games . . . splendor of pep club banquets. The '58 freshman class of about 600 excelled in all fields of school life. Enrollment stood at 60 in instrumental music, with freshmen Deanna Elliott and Nancy Hill majorettes; 70 in vocal music; 35 in speech, and a good representation in competitive sports. By the time spring rolled around freshmen were really in the swing of things. Conversation turned to . . . "What? Me try out for Classics?" Classics time finally came, followed shortly thereafter by final exams and report cards. Oh those lucky seniors! Only three years more for us. Our first? Really a great year!

Allen
It's really been a pleasure to know you this year.
Star

Allen, Youre one of the nicest guys Ide ever met. Il know you go far next year in Track. Good Luck & God Bless You always.
Linda Rice

- Allen - I wish you the best of luck in all you do. Be good (Ha! Ha!)
Rodney Hamilton Hardy

Allen
It's been great getting to know you this year you are really a great guy
Best of Luck
Randy Rouck

Long, low, and lovely, the southwest side of the Knights' castle culminates in a stately red granite pylon embellished with a dual faced clock.
